CONGRESS

Has to Vote on the Tariff Bill Today.

Bond Bill Will Come Up Tomorrow.

Report of Ways and Means Committee—Text of the Tariff and Bond Bills.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The committee on rules of the house today decided to report a rule to vote on the ways and means committee tariff bill at 5 o'clock today and the bond bill at 5 o'clock tomorrow. Amendments to either bill will not be allowed, although a vote for a substitute may be taken.

The democrats will demand a yea and nay vote on the adoption of the rule.

The rule reported was adopted in the house by 213 to 89, a strict party vote.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Chairman Dingley, of the ways and means committee, today reported to the house the tariff and bond bills agreed upon by the majority of the committee, and they were accompanied by the reports.

The committee on ways and means to whom was referred so much of the president's annual message and so much of the annual report of the secretary of the treasury as relates to revenue and the condition of the treasury, and also the president's special message presenting the urgency of immediate action by congress in a direction calculated to bring relief, report at considerable length, reviewing the situation in detail.

The suggestion says the report, that we need no more revenue because we have a cash balance of $50,000,000 of government notes in the treasury that can be used to pay the deficiency for the next six or twelve months is, in effect, a proposition to issue more bonds to meet a deficiency which should be met at once by providing more revenue. In other words, those who oppose raising more revenue in such a situation in effect—whether they intend to do so or not—favor borrowing in preference to paying as we go along. Your committee, believing that it is the duty of the house of representatives, to which body the constitution commits the inauguration of revenue bills, to frame and pass a measure that will yield not far from $40,000,000, sufficient to put an end to a deficiency—and to do this without delay, too—leaving to others whose cooperation is required to finally place such legislation on the statute books, to meet the responsibility in their own way.

Two facts have led your committee to look to an increase of customs duties as the most appropriate source of additional revenue. They are, first the fact that we are already raising a disproportionate amount of internal revenue which has always been regarded as a war resort. Indeed Jefferson took the ground that excises taxes should not be restored by the federal government as sources of revenue in time of peace, and the democratic national convention maintained the same doctrine in 1884. And, secondly, the fact that by increasing customs duties on imported articles which we can and ought to produce or make at home, for revenue purposes, we can at the same time incidentally encourage stricter home industries and materially aid in turning in our favor the balance of trade which has been so heavily against us all through this calendar year, and which has caused a demand for gold for export, which our treasury has been called to supply, for so long as the balance of trade is against us on account of excessive imports, we must export gold or (what is the same thing) promise to pay gold for the excess of imports over exports.

Your committee have not undertaken a general revision of the tariff on protection lines. We believe, however, that this need of more revenue is so great that a simple measure increasing all duties of the dutiable list and taking from the free list of the present tariff a few articles that were always on the dutiable list until August 27, 1894, and which have always been important revenue producers and limiting the operation of such legislation to about two years and a half until the present deficiency of revenue is overcome, ought to receive the approval of those who do not favor protective duties, on patriotic grounds; and that fact that it may incidentally encourage the production of many articles that we require at home instead of abroad will not be regarded as a ground of opposition under present circumstances.

The object of your committee has been to frame a bill mainly on revenue grounds in the hope that it would secure the approval of those in official place whose operation is essential to legislation, and who may be supposed to feel that in such an exigency as now exists the public necessity must control. Believing that such an increase of revenue as proposed is essential for the first step in the restoration of confidence and the restoration of the treasury to a sound condition, and that other legislation to be proposed to this end cannot be effective without adequate revenue to meet the expenditures of the government, your committee recommend the passage of the accompanying bill, to temporarily increase revenue to meet the expenses of the government and provide against a deficiency."

The report on the bond bill says: "that the secretary of the treasury now has authority under the act of 1875 to issue and sell ten years' five per cent. bonds and thirty years' four per cent. bonds to maintain full redemption of United States notes, and that he has sold $100,000,000 of the former description of bonds and about $62,000,000 of the latter description of bonds in the past two years and as he announces his intention to avail himself of the authority given by the resumption act and sell more high rate and long term bonds if necessary; the only question is whether it is not clearly for the public interests that he should have authority to sell a lower rate and shorter term bond.

The committee think that it is clearly in the public interest that he should have this authority, and add: "In granting this authority, we have included in the bill a provision that the proceeds of bonds sold shall be used exclusively for redemption purposes, our object being to secure such a separation of the redemption from the ordinary cash in the treasury as will maintain and protect the revenue. We also provide that such bonds shall be offered for sale in such a manner as to invite investment among the masses of the people."

Of the certificates of indebtedness the report says: "In our judgment the secretary of the treasury should always have such authority as this to meet temporary deficiencies that are liable to arise. Unless this authority is given the secretary will indirectly use the proceeds of bonds sold under the resumption act for redemption purposes to meet the deficiency in the revenue as he has been doing during the past two years and a half."

Text of the New Bond Measure.

Bill No. 1.—A bill to maintain and protect the coin redemption fund and to authorize the issue of certificates of indebtedness to meet temporary deficiencies of revenue.

Be it enacted, etc., that in addition to the authority given to the secretary of the treasury, by the act approved January 14, 1875, entitled, "An act to provide for the resumption of specie payment," he is authorized from time to time, at his discretion, to issue, sell and dispose of, at not less than par in coin, coupon or registered bonds of the United States to an amount sufficient for the object stated in this section, bearing not to exceed 3 per centum interest per annum, payable semi-annually, and redeemable at the pleasure of the United States, in coin, after five years from their date, with like qualities, privileges and exemptions provided in said act for the bonds therein authorized. And the secretary of the treasury shall use the proceeds thereof for the redemption of United States legal tender notes, and for no other purpose. Whenever the secretary of the treasury shall offer any of the bonds authorized for sale by this act, or by the resumption act of 1875, he shall advertise the same and authorize subscriptions therefor to be made at the treasury department and at the sub-treasuries and designated depositories of the United States.

Sec. 2. That to provide for any temporary deficiency now existing, or which may hereafter occur, the secretary of the treasury is hereby authorized, at his discretion, to issue certificates of indebtedness of the United States to an amount not exceeding $50,000,000, payable in three years after their date to the bearer in lawful money of the United States, of the denomination of $20, or multiples thereof, with annual coupons for interest at the rate of 3 per centum per annum, and is to sell and dispose of the same for not less than an equal amount of lawful money of the United States, at the treasury department and at the sub-treasuries and designated depositories of the United States, and at such post-offices as he may select. And such certificates shall have like qualities, privileges, and exemptions provided in said resumption act for the bonds therein authorized. And the proceeds thereof shall be used for the purposes prescribed in this section and for no other.

Provisions of the Revenue Bill.

Bill No. 2. A bill to temporarily increase revenue to meet the expenses of the government and provide against a deficiency.

Be it enacted, etc., that from and after the passage of this act, and until August 1, 1898, there shall be levied, collected, and paid on all imported wools of classes 1 and 2, as defined in the act hereinafter cited, approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, and on all hair of the camel, goat, alpaca and other animals, except as hereinafter provided, and on all noils, shoddy, garnetted waste, top waste, slubbing waste, roving waste, ring waste, yarn waste, and all other wastes composed wholly or partly of wool, and on all woolen rags, mungo, and flocks, a duty equivalent to 60 per centum of the duty imposed on each of such articles by an act entitled "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports, and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations of said act; and on all wools and Russian camel's hair of class 3, as defined in said act approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, there shall be levied, collected, and paid to the several duties provided by the said act approved October 1, 1890. And paragraph 279 of schedule K, and also paragraph 685 in the free list in the act entitled "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the government, and for other purposes," which became a law August 27, 1894, are hereby suspended until August 1, 1898.

Sec. 2. That from and after the passage of this act until August 1, 1898, there shall be levied, collected and paid, on all imported articles, made in whole or in part of wool, worsted, or other material described in section 1 of this act, except as hereinafter provided, 60 per centum of the specific pound or square yard duty imposed on each of said articles by an act, entitled, "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, in addition to the ad valorem duty now imposed on each of said articles by an act entitled, "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the government, and for other purposes," which became a law August 27, 1894; and on carpets, druggets, bockings, mats, rugs, screens, covers, hassocks, besides art squares and other portions of carpetings, made in whole or in part of wool, the specific square yard duty imposed on each of said articles by said act, approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, in addition to the ad valorem duty imposed on such articles, by said act, which became a law August 27, 1894.

Sec 3. That after the passage of this act and until August 1, 1898, there shall be levied and paid on import lumber and other articles designated in paragraphs 674 to 683 inclusive of an act entitled, "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the government, and for other purposes," which became a law August 24, 1894, a duty equivalent to 60 per cent. of the duties imposed on each of such articles by an act entitled, "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all conditions and limitations of said last named act, but pulp wood shall be classified as round unmanufactured timber exempt from duty; provided, that in case any foreign country shall impose an export duty upon pine, spruce, elm or other logs, or upon stave bolts, shingle wood, pulp wood or heading blocks exported to the United States from such country, then the duty upon the lumber and other articles mentioned in said paragraphs 674 to 683 inclusive, when imported from such country, shall be the same as fixed by the law enforced prior to 1890.

Sec. 4. That on and after the passage of this act, and until Aug. 1, 1898, there shall be levied, collected and paid on all imported articles mentioned in schedules A, B, C, D, F, G, H, I, J, L, M and N, of an act entitled, "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the government and for other purposes," which became a law Aug. 27, 1894, a duty equivalent to 15 per cent. of the duty imposed on each of said articles by existing laws in addition to the duty of Aug. 27, 1894; provided that the additional duties imposed by this section shall not in any case increase the rate of duty on any article beyond the rate imposed thereon by the said act of Oct. 1, 1890, but in such case the duties shall be the same as was imposed by said act; and provided further, that where the present rate of duty on any article is higher than was fixed by said last named act, the rate of duty thereon shall not be further increased by this section, but shall remain as provided by existing laws.

HEALTHY AT 109 YEARS OF AGE.

Mrs. Margaret King Entertains 100 Descendants.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Dec. 26.—Mrs. Margaret King celebrated her 109th birthday anniversary yesterday by giving a great dinner to 100 of her descendants. Mrs. King was born at White Oak, Ohio, on Christmas day, 1787. She came to this county when a small girl and is the oldest resident now living here. Her parents were poor, and as she married at an early age to a hard working farmer almost forty years of her life were spent in hard toil with her husband on the farm. Such things as plowing, cutting and husking corn, shocking wheat and mauling rails were common to her. Although week from old age, she is in exceedingly good health for one of her age. She goes about the premises with ease, and frequently does light household chores. She has not worn glasses for twenty years, she having received her second sight. Her hearing and all other senses are excellent.

EIGHTEEN CARS WRECKED.

Disastrous Smash-Up on the Big Four at Milford.

A special to THE SENTINEL today says that a disastrous wreck happened on the Big Four railroad at Milford, a station north of Warsaw. A coal car broke down on a culvert and was followed into the creek by ten cars. Altogether eighteen cars were wrecked. Nobody was hurt. Four tramps escaped injury. One of them was in the coal car that broke down. Traffic on the road will be delayed for many hours.

FIGHT WITH TRAMPS.

The Hobos Take Up Quarters Near North Manchester.

Resist the Marshal and a Running Fight Ensues, in Which the Tramps are Roughly Handled.

NORTH MANCHESTER, Ind., Dec. 26.—For several days past this place has been overrun with a gang of tramps, who were camped in the woods near town. They have committed many petty offenses, and Saturday night the postoffice was robbed. Yesterday City Marshal Bonawitz collected a posse of 100 armed citizens and proceeded to place the tramps under arrest. A running fight followed, during which several of the vagrants were badly punished. After a conflict lasting three hours, eighteen of the more desperate characters were locked up to await a hearing. As many more are still at large and are threatening to burn the town. The city council held a special meeting last night and the streets are being patrolled by a large number of special police.

IT WAS THE PALME

Which Went Ashore in Kingstown Bay.

After a Heroic Battle With the Raging Sea the Sailors Manage to Reach a Place of Safety.

DUBLIN, Dec. 26.—The large three masted vessel seen on Tuesday last flying signals of distress in Kingstown Bay, turns out to be the Russian bark Palme, Captain Eriksen, from Liverpool, on December 18, for Mobile, Ala. As cabled exclusively to the Associated Press at the time, a lifeboat which went to her assistance was capsized and her crew of sixteen men were drowned and a second lifeboat which attempted to assist the Palme was capsized and returned to the shore with the greatest trouble. The crew of the Palme cut away her masts, and eventually all on board, eighteen souls in all, were rescued by a passing steamer today. The rescued people included the captain's wife and child.

ALGIERS, Dec. 26.—The British steamer Bellerophon has been in collision with and has sunk the French steamer Emile Selsise at the entrance of the harbor. Thirty passengers of the Emile Selsise, including twenty-five natives, were drowned.

ZELLA GUESSES AGAIN.

Her Demand for $400 a Week on the Stage is Laughed At.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 25.—Zella Nicalaus is in St. Louis—incog, as it were—a guest at the Planter's hotel. On the register are the names of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ruhmann. Mrs. Ruhmann is Zella Nicalaus. Her mission in St. Louis is to secure an engagement with the New York theatrical managers, Davis & Keogh. The traveling manager of the firm, Cud Given, who represents all the Davis & Keogh attractions, and especially "The Hustler," which will open an engagement at Havlin's, the week of January 5, is in St. Louis, and it was to Mr. Given that Zella Nicolaus made application for a special engagement with "The Hustler," to be followed by a permanent engagement with one of the companies. Mr. Ruhmann opened up negotiations, and Manager Given asked him to come right to business and name terms, whereupon Mr. Ruhmann sent for Zella, who said: "Well, I guess I ought to be worth about $400 a week."

Manager Given is nothing if not an icebergian, and his response was: "Thanks, young lady, you have another guess."

Mr. and Mrs. Ruhmann promptly grasped the situation, and suggested an offer for one week with "The Hustler," in St. Louis, on a percentage basis, which Manager Given declined to consider.

EDUCATORS OF INDIANA.

Pedagogues of the State to Assemble at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 26.—Educators of Indiana have begun to arrive here for the several annual meetings which are held during Christmas week, and which are composed of all classes engaged in the school work, from the president of the university to the humblest teacher in the district school. The most important meeting is that of the state teachers' association, which convenes this evening and which will be in session two or three days. The college association will also be in session, and adjuncts of these two, consisting of school officers, high school and country school sections, and town and county superintendents, will also hold meetings. The Indiana Academy of Science, which is intimately connected with the college association and whose sessions are enlivened by a subdivision into various scientific sections, will meet at the same time. The various bodies will hold their sessions in the state house and it is expected that several hundred pedagogues will be in the city during the week. The work will be confined entirely to subjects of interest to persons engaged in the different branches of school work.

LIKE A DEMON

Did John Wienhart Fight a Monon Detective.

The Frenzied Man Wounds the Detective and a Passenger and Then Jumps From the Train.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 26.—The Monon Chicago passenger train which arrived here yesterday morning brought intelligence of an exciting time on the train between Englewood and Hammond Junction Tuesday night. John Wienhart, of this city, had boarded the train as it was leaving Chicago, and had been put off by Detective McQuaid, of the Monon road. At Englewood, when the conductor came through he discovered Wienhart on the train again. Detective McQuid had come in the car with Conductor Byers, also of this city, and the moment Wienhart saw the detective he took it for granted that he was to be again ejected. Springing to his feet he drew a revolver and fired at McQuaid. The bullet cut a gash in McQuaid's face and Conductor Byers' face was burned with the powder. McQuaid grappled with Weinhart, while Byers ran for his own pistol. Charles Jack, of this city, who was in the baggage car, seized a hatchet and hurried to McQuaid's assistance. The three men overpowered Weinhart and secured his pistol. It was thought the trouble was over, but hostilities were soon renewed. Weinhart had gone to the rear of the coach, and McQuaid followed close behind him, revolver in hand. The men were speedily engaged in another conflict. McQuaid fired this time. In the struggle Wienhart secured McQuaid's revolver, and started for the forward end of the car, pursued by both Jack and McQuaid. Wienhart began firing, discharging three chambers of the revolver. One of the bullets struck a closet in the foreward end of the car and cut a gash in the head of a boy passenger. The latter had his injuries dressed by a doctor at Lowell. The wound was not serious. By this time Wienhart was near Conductor Byers, and ordered him to stop the train. For an answer the conductor slammed and locked the door in his face. Finding the conductor would not stop the train Wienhart reached for the bell cord, which he jerked violently and sprang from the train. The glass in the door of the smoking car was broken and the coach has a number of bullet holes.

Wienhart was raised in this city. He has been to the asylum once or twice, and when he has been drinking is an ugly citizen. Some time ago he was brought before the mayor, the arrest being made by his brother, who is on the police force. John became so abusive and threatening that Officer Wienhart, to protect himself, had to give him a trouncing in the court room.

THE COURTS.

Cases Disposed of and on Trial in the Courts.

The case of the Fort Wayne Journal against Michael E. Burns for $125 was tried in Justice France's court this morning and the plaintiff secured a judgment for $102.98. The defendant filed an offset of $250 for services for overtime. Breen & Morris were attorneys for the plaintiff and James H. Powers for the defendant. Mr. Burns was formerly advertising solicitor for the Journal but is now proprietor of the Evening Post.

Justice Huser and a jury are hearing the case of Frederick Helling against William Hock. Will Ninde is attorney for the plaintiff and G. W. Loutit for the defendant.

The case of the Jenny Light and Power company against Joseph Eliam is on trial to Justice Bohen and a jury. Judge Morris and G. W. Loutit are attorneys for the plaintiff and J. W. Wilson for the defendant.

Amos L. Hetrick and Rosa A. Abbott, Perry J. Crates and Effie V. Freidline, Frank X. Roussey and Rosa Gladieux have been licensed to wed.

The will of Henry J. Poysen has been filed with the county clerk. He leaves his property to his wife.

Joseph Notestine has been fined $1 and costs for selling liquor without a license.

A WHITE CAT.

Is Changing Color and Has Turned Almost Brown.

At Bond's mill, on East Columbia street, there is a freak. It is a cat. This cat has been a resident of the mill for a long time and she has always been a white cat until this morning.

Today the feline has been changing color. It was about 7:30 o'clock this morning when some one in the mill noticed that the cat was not of her usual snow white color. Her face, head, neck, fore legs and breast began changing color, and they continued to change until by noon they become almost brown. The change of color was extending gradually all over the cat's body, and unless it stops soon she will be a brown cat instead of white.

Just what causes this change nobody seems able to tell. The cat was not out of the mill office all morning to get into anything and the people about the mill who know the cat best think she is simply tired of the monotony of wearing one kind of fur all her life.

JUST MISSED HIM.

A Broken Trolley Wire Drops Into a Car Vestibule.

Motorman Frank Bobay, of the Lewis street and Spy Run avenue street car line, had a close call this morning. Near the St. Joe river bridge, just this side of the Feeble Minded home, the trolley wire broke. As the live wire fell, the end of it crashed through the window of the vestibule, narrowly missing Bobay's head. It struck the car and burned a hole in the woodwork. Had the wire struck Bobay he would no doubt have been eletrocuted.

The break caused traffic on all the lines to be delayed for about twenty minutes until repairs could be made.

SIR PAUNCEFOTE

Calls Upon Secretary Olney This Morning,

And Receives From Him Official Notice of the Appointment of a Venezuelan Commission.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Among Secretary Olney's callers today was Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, accompanied by Mr. Sanderson, the British consul general at New York, a brother of Sir T. P. Sanderson who drew the "Sanderson line" in the British Guiana boundary dispute and addressed the two notes to Dr. Pulido and Dr. Urbaneis, of Venezuela, which are claimed by the Venezuelans to have eminated from Lord Salisbury. It is stated officially that the call was of a social nature, but frequently important business is transacted on diplomatic reception days. Outside of the Venezuelan question there are a number of minor subjects concerning postal exchanges, etc., which engage the attention of the state department and the British authorities.

A strong impression prevails, as a result of the visit today, that Secretary Olney has officially notified the British representative of the enactment of the law for the creation of the Venezuelan baundary commission. This, of course, is such a matter of public notoriety that the ambassador has cognizance of the facts, but an official notification of the action of this country would bring out the attitude of Great Britain toward the commission.

A POLICEMAN ROBBED.

Somebody Steals All of Officer Sharp's Clothing.

Sharp's Residence Entered During His Absence—About $150 Worth of Goods Stolen.

Somebody, last night, robbed Officer Lot Sharp of $150 worth of clothing and other articles.

Mr. Sharp has just recently completed a new residence at No. 83 Boone street. He furnished the house in cozy style and had every thing in good shape to enjoy life. Mr. Sharp is a single man, but he blushingly admits lately that he will not be a single man much longer. That's why he has been so particular about getting his house in such nice shape. Since the house was furnished he has been rooming there alone, and it seems that some one knew this fact and also that he is not home at nights.

This morning when Officer Sharp went off duty and arrived home he saw that somebody had been at his house in the night. There were fresh tracks in the snow. Upon entering the house he found that the place had been robbed. The thief had entered through a cellar window and then reached the upper floors through the inside cellar door.

The burglar took away every piece of Sharp's clothing that he could find. A couple of suits, one of them brand new, shirts, underwear, hats and shoes made up the booty. Sharp told a SENTINEL reporter this morning that the only clothing he had left was that on his back. The thief even took away neckties and other small articles.

Nobody in the neighborhood heard or saw the robber and the first discovery was made by Mr. Sharp, himself. It is the common opinion that the job was done by some thief who has been arrested by Officer Sharp and that this means was taken to get even. The police department has been furnished with a list and discription of the stolen goods and the officers are working on some clues.

JUST FOR PASTIME.

Frank Bradshaw Wrote Several Bank Checks.

He Also Flourished a Big Revolver and Was Taken in by Officer Sharp.

Officer Sharp last evening found a young colored boy near the depot, on South Calhoun street, flourishing a revolver in true wild west style. Frank Bradshaw was the name of the lad, and when he saw the officer approaching he shoved the gun in his pocket and kept quiet. Sharp searched him and found the revolver in his overcoat pocket and then sent him to the police station.

Young Bradshaw has for a few days past been acting as janitor in the First National bank in place of his brother, the regular janitor, who is away on a visit. The revolver which he had last evening was a large Smith & Wesson which he had picked up off a counter in the bank and stuck in his pocket. Bradshaw had further amused himself in the bank by writing checks for various sums of money and signing other people's names to them. They were all made payable to Frank Bradshaw. One was a First National bank check for $54, signed "J. H. Bass;" another was an Old National bank check for $150, signed "Mark Randal;" the third was a Hamilton National bank check for $9, signed "J. Bass." In police court this morning Bradshaw told the mayor that he had taken the revolver from the bank and that he had written the checks "just for fun." He claimed further that he had no intention of trying to pass the checks, and this was no doubt true, because they were written in such a scribbling hand that nobody would have accepted them as genuine.

Bradshaw pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons and was sent to jail for fifteen days. He was also warned to not make out any more checks for other people.

PAUL IN ROME.

Hon. H. G. Thayer Delivers a Very Fine Lecture.

Those who missed hearing the lecture delivered at the city Y. M. C. A. Monday evening by Hon. H. G. Thayer, of Plymouth, Ind., have reason to regret that they were not present. The subject was "Paul's Journey to Rome; His Imprisonment There and His Execution Without the City." Mr. Thayer has spent much time in Rome and in his lecture he spoke from the result of his own personal researches into the history of the city in Biblical times. Mr. Thayer followed Paul from the time he was taken before King Agrippa, charged with entertaining superstitious and dangerous ideas. He told of his journey to Rome, where he was to be given the opportunity of appeal to Cæsar. He described the route of the journey and all the scenes of interest along the way; told of the two trials of Paul by a jury; how he was convicted and sentenced to death; described the cavernous prison of stone in which Paul was confined, and painted in eloquent words the march from the prison to a point outside the gates of the city, where the apostle was beheaded. The lecture was of deep interest, and the more so from the fact that Mr. Thayer presented many minute details and descriptions of Rome and vicinity that only a traveler could do. The inclement weather kept many people away from the lecture who would have otherwise been present.

Mr. Thayer is one of the leading republicans of the state and his name is being prominently mentioned as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor. He is a successful business man and a Christian gentleman and his candidacy is looked upon with much favor. The Bourbon Mirror, edited by the veteran Ignatius Mattingly, who has known Mr. Thayer intimately for forty years, is out for him for the nomination in a forcible manner that is attracting the attention of all the politicians.

STOLE A SUIT.

A Smooth Thief Robs a Baker Street Boarding House.

Claimed to be the Friend of a Boarder, Went to His Room and Changed Clothes.

A bold thief entered the room of a Pennsylvania railroad man named Thomas, who boards at George H. Foulks' boarding house, at No. 19 Baker street, last night, and stole a suit of clothes. The fellow was a smooth looking young man. Thomas was out on the road and the thief came to the house and claimed to be his friend and said he had orders from Thomas to go to his room. A short time later he left the house and then it was learned that he had changed clothes in Thomas' room, leaving his own old suit and wearing away a good suit belonging to Thomas.

The thief was a perfect stranger to the people about the house and there is nobody, so far as known, who recognised him. He was undoubtedly one of those smooth house-workers who make good their escape.

FOR CITY LINES.

C. E. Everett Applies for Many Streets.

He Asks a Franchise for a Complete System of Street Railways Exclusive of Suburban Lines.

C. E. Everett has made application to the board of public works for a franchise for a complete system of street railways, regardless of any suburban line. After the council refused to give him the franchise he wanted in connection with the Lake Everett road, he made the new application. The routes over which Mr. Everett asks the privilege of building are as follows:

A double track system on Harrison street, from Columbia to Baker, and on Baker to Calhoun, and a single track on the following streets: On Calhoun from Baker to Murray; on Murray to Barr; on Barr to East Creighton avenue; on East Creighton avenue to Lafayette; on Lafayette to Pontiac; on Pontiac to Gay; on Gay to Buchanan; on Buchanan to Winter; on Winter to Eliza; on Eliza to Francis; on Francis to Hugh; on Hugh to Hanna; on Hanna to Montgomery; on Montgomery to Clay; on Clay to Madison; on Madison to Barr; on Barr to Jefferson; on Jefferson to Jackson; on Jackson to Pritchard; on Pritchard to Rockhill; on Rockhill to Jones; on Jones to College; on College to Swinney; on Swinney to Garden; on Garden to Taylor; on Taylor to Fox; on Fox and Shawnee avenue to Anna; on Anna and Ferguson to Broadway; on Broadway and Beaver avenue to Organ avenue; on Organ avenue to South Wayne avenue; on South Wayne avenue to Richardsville avenue; on Richardsville avenue to Hoagland avenue. On Grand street from Calhoun to Harrison; on Harrison to Dawson; on Dawson to Hoagland avenue; on Hoagland avenue to Pontiac; on Pontiac to Calhoun; on Calhoun to Grace street. On Columbia street, from Harrison to Clinton; on Clinton to Fourth; on Fourth to Sherman; on Sherman to Spring; on Spring to St. Marys avenue; on St. Marys avenue to Pape avenue across St. Marys river bridge to Van Buren; on Van Buren to Superior; on Superior to Ewing; on Ewing to Pearl; on Pearl to Harrison, and on High street, from St. Marys avenue to the west city limits.

Mr. Everett names the following conditions in his application for a franchise: The first car to start on week day mornings at 5:30 and on Sundays at 8 o'clock a. m; one complete round trip shall be made on each line after midnight; eight tickets for twenty-five cents; the city to receive 2 per cent. of the gross receipts of the company; passengers from suburban roads to be carried to any point on the city lines for two and one-half cents; ten hours shall constitute a day's work for employes and over time shall be paid for at the rate of one and one-half hour's pay for an hour's work.

The application for the franchise is now in the hands of the board and will no doubt receive attention at once.

DANGER AHEAD

A NEW PILE CURE

Which Cures Every Form of Piles Without Pain or Inconvenience.

The ordinary case of piles is one of the commonest afflictions of humanity. While they are extremely annoying, yet men and women will endure them for months and years, off and on, because they are not immediately fatal, and as long as they can get around and perform the daily duties of life they suffer on in the hope that in some way or other the trouble will pass away of its own accord, without any other treatment than a little salve or ointment occasionally. Now in the very nature of the disease this will never happen.

It is absolutely certain to grow worse passing away for a time and returning, until before you are aware of it, an ulcer has formed and the beginning of the much dreaded fistula has been made and then, what was at first a simple case of common, everyday piles becomes an even chance between life and death. A surgical operation, with all its attendant horrors, uncertainties and danger to life, becomes necessary.

Although the Pyramid Pile Cure is just as valuable in the advanced stages of rectal disease, yet the time to use it is at the beginning. A single package will then effect a complete cure in nearly every instance, in fact two or three applications often do the work. The Pyramid Pile Cure is well known to be a certain cure for Piles in every form, but we take pleasure in publishing the experiences of sufferers, especially when such commendation is entirely unsought by us. Mr. H. H. Hoffman, of Huntington, W. Va., writes:

I have used your Pyramid Pile Cure and consider it a perfect remedy for Piles. If you want an agent write me your terms and I can do some good work for you as everybody here knows how badly I suffered and they also know I am now entirely cured.

From Mrs. S. E. Deitzler, Union Deposite, Pa.: Please accept thanks for your Pyramid Pile cure. It has done me such great good in so short a time and at so little expense.

From Mrs. Nancy W. Shaw, La Crosse, Wis.: I am more than pleased with the benefit I have received from the Pyramid Pile Cure, I needed but one package. I shall write you again soon.

From R. Witherell, Shoreham, Vt.: The package of Pyramid Pile Cure I received last November has entirely cured me of itching piles, I have tried various remedies for over forty years. I shall always keep a package of this splendid remedy on hand. There are others I think would be glad to try it, when I can see them and tell them what it has done for me. Accept my heartfelt thanks.

Letters like these are daily received by the Pyramid Pile Co. of Albion, Mich., who manufacture this remedy. It is sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents and $1.00, and every druggist has a good word to say for it as they know better than anyone else the satisfaction it always gives to their customers.

CHRISTMAS day brought us Easter weather.

IT was summer yesterday; it is winter today.

PHILADELPHIA finished up her street railroad strike in a week.

IF congress wants to increase the revenues of the country let them put an increased tax on beer.

THE dairymen of the state will meet in convention in this city tomorrow. Will their session have any effect upon the price or quality of the milk?

GOVERNOR MATTHEWS has furnished an estimate of the military strength of Indiana. He states that the militia of the state consists of some 3,000 able bodied men, who can be made available on a moment's notice, and they are armed with repeating rifles of the latest pattern. The artillery companies, however, are not provided with the latest field pieces, but all their guns are muzzle loading. Within thirty days, however, the state could furnish at least 40,000 men to the government, who would be well officered and equipped in everything except in arms, which the government would have to furnish.

IN speaking of the official call for the twenty-eighth annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association, to be held in Washington January 23, Miss Merica Hoagland, in the Public Occurrent, of this city, says: "Without entering upon any discussion of the question, the call gives rise to the following question: If congress should pass the amendment allowing women to vote and it is submitted to the several states for ratification, ought not the women of these states be allowed the opportunity to vote upon the question which is of such vital importance to them? If they are competent to vote at all should they not be permitted to have a voice in saying whether or no they wish the right of suffrage?"

THE senate of the United States without a dissenting voice passed Christmas eve a bill removing the disabilities which hitherto have deprived ex-confederates of the privilege of enlisting in the army and navy of the United States. There is not the slightest doubt that the house will accept the senate bill and pass it. No vestige will then remain on the books of the disbarment of any class or portion of our citizens on account of the rebellion already a generation behind us. Not many remain who participated in that conflict on either side, but of all the remnant there cannot be one who will not rejoice that with the incoming of the year 1896 the feeling of '76 has been wholly renewed.

CHRISTMAS of 1895 will pass into history distinguished on account of the fact that it was particularly green. It came mightily near, however, being a white Christmas, as shortly after the midnight bells pealed out the death of the day, the snow fell and covered the earth with a garment of white.

England and America.

Americans in England and Englishmen in America like to dwell upon the fact that the two nations are of one race, with a common language and literature, common traditions and common sympathies, as a reason why they should be friends. In truth, this very fact is the reason why there is so much friction between us. We seldom have any misunderstanding with the French, for example, who are of a quite different race, with a different point of view from ours, for the reason that we do not come into very close contact with them and do not know what they are saying about us. But we are always listening to the English and they to us, and each side is quick to take offense at the other.

Our relations are much like those of the members of one family who are mutually jealous and prone to bickering. It is easy to be polite to outsiders, to strangers or distant neighbors, but we do not feel the same restraint in our own household, and when brothers or cousins have once quarreled, even though they have made up, it needs a good deal of restraint on both sides for them to keep upon good terms. We cannot help feeling conscious of a certain domineering manner in our kinsmen across the sea that we are disposed always to resent, while they resent in us what they regard as the insolence of youth that needs repression. In spite of the closeness of interest and the sincerity of personal friendships, each nation is perfectly conscious of the jealous attitude of the other, and so is quick to take offense at incidents or language that in a stranger would be passed by.

Yet while these misunderstandings are natural enough, it would be quite unnatural for then to develop into actual warfare, not so much because we are people of one race as because both nations are made up mostly of people of good sense, with other things to do in the world besides fighting one another over matters that can be settled better without it. We feel that we have made a reasonable suggestion to Great Britain—a suggestion such as one gentleman might make to another—not merely in self-interest, but in the interest of a weaker neighbor. Our suggestion has been rejected in a manner that touches our self-respect, and the nation has very promptly indicated its determination to make it a demand. Of course this means that we will fight if we must, but it does not mean that we want to fight, or that we assume that England does. It is simply that we do not intend to be bullied, even by our nearest of kin.

Obituary Humors.

A writer who naturally does not give his name has confessed in Chambers' Journal that he gets his living by writing obituary notices of distinguished people. In some cases he sells the manuscript death notice to the newspapers while the person is yet living. In others editors who know his specialty send to him in a hurry on the unexpected death of some public person, and such are his resources that in two or three hours he can turn out a death notice anywhere from two to six columns long of almost anybody on the globe. He has for years collected from the daily papers that chronicle events in the lives of people their history, movements and anecdotes related of them. These clippings he keeps in huge, indexed scrapbooks to which he can apply at any time. He says he finds this kind of writing "pays exceedingly well." Perhaps here is a hint that some brainy, impecunious young American man or woman may take advantage of.

If you are at all a distinguished person, particularly if you are well on in years, every large newspaper in the land probably has your obituary notice tucked away in its pigeon holes at this moment. The writer in Chambers' Journal says they call it over the water keeping the notices in pickle.

Sometimes, however, where a comparatively young man has climbed into prominence and the newspapers and insurance companies naturally calculate on his living many years, he cheats them by dying suddenly. Then the newspapers themselves are in a pickle to get a respectable obituary in a short time. In such cases the notices detailing the virtues of the departed are always meager, dull and unsatisfactory. Charles Stewart Parnell thus went out in a hurry and cheated the papers out of an obituary whack of a most striking character.

On the other hand, sometimes when a man has been ill a long time, the report of his death is circulated prematurely. Then the journals rush into print their pigeonholed obituaries and the subject of them once in awhile gets well, after all, and has the pleasure or otherwise of reading them himself. This was the case with the Prince of Wales when he had typhoid fever at Sandringham so long in 1871. In this case the obituaries of the prince were not actually issued in the papers, but they were all ready for working off, and when at midnight the expected news of his death did not come, the papers had to fill in the space with various kinds of stale matter. His royal highness has now his own obituaries pasted in scrapbooks at Marlborough House.

The cotton states ought to be happy this year, for though the crop was not so large the price has been high enough to return big profits. The course of cotton ought to convince any person that every staple of trade, whatever it is, must rise and fall, ebb and flow, in price. Iron and cotton were dead low for years. Loud were the complaints that there was no money in them. This state continued till many had become disgusted and gone out of the iron trade. Many planters had concluded that cotton did not pay to raise. Suddenly, without a word of warning or sufficient reason that anybody can determine for certain, the price of iron began to leap forward like a frog. Fortunes were made in a few months in the iron business. The ebb tide had simply finished its course, and the flood tide set in. As Farmer Benner showed a long time ago, there are regularly recurring cycles of high and low prices. In case of cotton there is more appearance of reason in the sudden rise of price, for the cotton crop was short. There was still plenty of it to supply all needs, however, and its scarcity was not a sufficient explanation of the sensational fluctuations in price. But the lesson one can learn is that the producer of a staple has only to hang on till his turn comes again. It is sure to come. If anything was ever overdone in this country, it was the business of wheat raising, yet the price of wheat is certain to rise again, sooner or later, when its cycle of low price is accomplished.

Endowed Humbug.

Professor H. W. Jenks of Cornell university is of opinion that it would be a tremendous service to "the public" for some great rich man to endow a newspaper. He should set aside for it so much money that it would live, if living it could be called, whether anybody subscribed for it or read it or not. Its management should be in the hands of "trustees of integrity," who would run it in the interest of all the pure, elevated and unselfish sentiments of the day. "It would be expected to give carefully written, moderate opinions on both sides." The professor thinks such an endowed newspaper might have a stronger tendency toward elevating the political tone than a dozen new universities.

Yes, yes! Very fine this. But if such a paper were endowed and started in three months' time it would be as stupid through and through as an essay by a college professor. It would be deader than the Dead sea. Nobody would read it any more than he now reads The Congressional Record or a patent office publication. Does not the professor know that a state church is the most stupid and nearest lifeless of any?

A paper that cannot support itself and make a good living for its editor and the other people who work on it has no reason for being. Moreover, there are today a number of privately owned newspapers that do almost exactly what the professor suggests in the way of being perfectly truthful and reliable as to news and likewise in giving moderately expressed views on both sides of a question. Moreover, some of these papers are among the richest and most widely read journals in America.

Go to with your foolery about an endowed newspaper!

Copyright In Canada.

When the international copyright agreement was entered into by the United States and Great Britain, it was a question whether Canada should be considered as a part of Great Britain in that matter. The Dominion finally allowed itself to be counted in, but with a condition attached. It was that whenever Canada desired to withdraw from the international copyright agreement she should be at liberty to do so.

Here was the groundwork of future trouble, but it was all that could be done at the time. American and British authors, however, proceeded to copyright their books on both sides of the water, and the new law worked well for a time. Then came a hitch. Canada withdrew from the agreement and resolved to publish books on her own hook, copyrightable in the Dominion. An act was passed declaring that any Canadian printer might issue any foreign book he pleased, at any time. The only stipulation is that he shall deposit with the Dominion government a 10 per cent royalty on the book. This is supposed to be for the author, in case he should ever claim it.

It is charged that the Canadian copyright law is a blind to enable Canadian publishers to flood the United States with cheap books and evade the copyright law. The books will be smuggled across the border into this country, it is believed. This it will not be difficult to do.

Americans hardly expected to live to see British stocks put upon the American market, the tide having been the other way so long. Yet they will probably soon see that very thing. For some years the so called Kaffir stocks have been booming in London. In brief, they represent gold mining properties in South Africa. It is safe to say they are as uncertain to purchase as American gold mining stocks have long been. They may hit, but the chances are 90 in 100 against them. Indeed it has been said more than once that the fortunes made from our gold mines are those which accrued from the sale of their stock to greenhorns in Europe. Now it looks as if the British were giving us a dose of our own medicine. At any rate it will be well to wait a good while before investing large sums in Kaffir stocks, and then not do it. They have boomed so that they are at a high price already, higher than would be profitable to pay. If that were not so, they would already all be taken in England.

IN CASE OF WAR.

A Chicago Ship Builder Tells What We Could Do.

Could Put Thirty Well Equipped Armored Vessels on the Lakes in Short Order.

CHICAGO Dec 26.—W. L. Brown, of the Chicago Ship Building company, declared today that in case of war with England, the United States could build thirty fully equipped war ships for lake service inside of ten months. In an emergency, armored vessels of simple construction would be put together in ninety days. "On the other hand," he added, "Canada could do practically nothing in the way of armored vessels and would be obliged to get along with make shifts. As the first move of the United States would be to destroy the Welland canal, the situation on the great lakes would resolve itself into this: Which nation has the best ship building facilities on the chain of lakes?"

"The ship yards on the United States side could take care of the work faster than the material could be furnished," continued Mr. Brown. "All the armor for these vessels has to come from one place, Pittsburg. There are only two firms there which make it—the Carnegie Steel company and the Cambria Iron company, so that the United States controls the supply of material."

Bankers Fail.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26.—William G. and S. Hopper, trading as William G. Hopper & Company, bankers and brokers, 28 South Third street, failed today. AMHERST'S ECLIPSE EXPEDITION.

Professor Todd Will Observe the Sun From One of Japan's Islands In 1896.

To travel thousands of miles, spend thousands of dollars and devote three years of preparatory work in order to procure less than a three minutes' view of the eclipsed sun's corona is the task Professor David Peck Todd of Amherst college has gladly assumed. He will head the Amherst eclipse expedition to Japan in 1896 and will be well satisfied if vexatious clouds will only keep out of the way and permit an uninterrupted study of the sun's corona. The eclipse will occur at 3:05 p. m. on Aug. 9, on the island of Yesso, one of the largest northern islands of the Japanese empire, and will last 2 minutes and 40 seconds. If a little cloud should stray along and get in the way during that time, thousands of miles of travel, thousands of dollars of expenditures and three years of work and planning will all have been in vain.

PROFESSOR TODD.

Professor Todd is a veteran observer of eclipses. He has already directed five expeditions and has added much to the world's knowledge of astronomy. He was born at Lake Ridge, N. Y., March 19, 1855, and is a son of Sereno Edwards Todd. He studied for a time at Columbia college and was graduated from Amherst college in 1875. In August of that year he was appointed assistant to the United States transit of Venus commission and devoted three years to the arduous work of reducing the observations of the transit expedition of 1874.

In 1875 he was elected a member of the Washington Philosophical society. Two years later he became a member of the American Association For the Advancement of Science and in 1881 was made a fellow of the same body. When at Amherst, he began a series of observations of the satellites of Jupiter and continued them for 12 years. In 1878 he conducted the government observation in Texas of the sun's eclipse. In 1881 he accepted the chair of astronomy at Amherst and also became professor of astronomy and higher mathematics at Smith college. In 1882 he directed observations of the transit of Venus from Lick observatory and in 1887 and 1889 led the expeditions to Japan and to Africa to observe the solar eclipses. His forthcoming expedition will leave San Francisco next spring on the schooner yacht Coronet.

TO BID FOR BIG CONVENTIONS.

As every one knows, Niagara Falls has excellent hotel facilities for the entertainment of bridal couples, but the fact that she possessed no great hall has compelled her to refuse many national conventions that would have furnished a golden harvest for the hotel men, storekeepers and hackmen of the city. This want has long been unfilled, but if present plans are carried out the town will soon possess a great convention hall that will be large enough to accommodate any body that may desire to hold its sessions near the mighty cataract.

The building will be 170 feet long and 130 feet wide and will cost about $100,000. The structure will be of brick and terra cotta and will be fireproof. The auditorium is designed to seat between 6,000 and 8,000 people and will be flanked by numerous committee rooms and toilet rooms and by a restaurant. The floor of the rotunda will be of mosaic, the interior finish will be hard wood and the plaster work will be artistically decorated. The tower will be open to the top of the building.

CONVENTION HALL TO BE ERECTED AT NIAGARA FALLS.

Much will be erected by an attractive dome. A number of balconies will overlook the auditorium and in every respect the convention hall will be strictly up to date. The building will be lighted by electricity and supplied with all the modern conveniences applicable to convention halls.

Another evidence of the wide awake spirit that is increasing the prosperity of Niagara Falls is the great 12 story office building that is to be erected in the spring at the northwest corner of Falls and Main streets. It will be as nearly fireproof as the modern architect can make it and will cover a tract of ground 160 feet deep by 90 feet wide. Fully $200,000 will be expended to make it one of the finest office buildings in any city of similar size in the country. In 1890 the population of Niagara Falls was only 5,502, but the utilization of the immense water power of America's greatest cataract has caused a rapid increase in the population during the past five years.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at Dreier & Bro.'s drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

Old People.

RAILWAYS AND SHOPS.

Engineer Damon Falls and Injures Himself.

Albert Hanson Has an Arm Injured--Man Killed at Delphos--Lad Loses Both Feet.

Charles E. Damon is the engineer at the Bass machine shop and lives out near the Western Gas works This morning at 6 o'clock, as he was leaving home for the factory, he slipped and fell on the door steps, striking his back upon the sharp corner of one of the boards and sustaining severe injury to the spine. He was barely able to crawl back into the house, where he will no doubt be confined for a week or more In the meantime Joseph Jordan will have charge of the engine room at the Bass works.

ALBERT HANSON HURT.

Albert Hanson, one of the employes at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, was pulling a hand truck in the yard adjacent to the shop, when his feet slipped and he fell upon a steel billet, severely injuring his left side and arm He will be unable to work for some days.

TERRE HAUTE CAR WORKS TO RESUME OPERATIONS.

The Terre Haute Car Works company announce that about the 1st of February the works will be started at nearly full capacity, after practically two years' idleness. The plant has been enlarged and improved, and it is expected that before long more than 1,000 men will be employed. The company has several contracts, which will give employment to 500 men at the start, and it is expected other contracts will be secured soon after the first of the year which will give assurance of steady operations for a long time to come.

MAN KILLED AT DELPHOS.

The track walker on the Pittsburg road found the mangled remains of Samuel Hamilton lying on the road near Delphos, Ohio, early Christmas morning. The body was horribly mutilated and pieces of flesh and bloody garments were strewn along the track a distance of twenty yards In the pockets of the coat were papers by which the identity of the unfortunate man was discovered. He was a resident of Van Wert, where the remains were taken after the coroner had released them. Hamilton was seen to get on No. 8 Saturday night, but as no blood stains were found on the wheels of the cars, it is thought he was killed by some other train.

BRIEF MENTION.

W. T. Kelley, of the metre department, electric works, is sick and off duty.

After a few days' illness A. S. Durnell, east shop tinner, returned to work this morning.

Ed Ames, of the electric works, has returned from Michigan, where he installed a lighting plant.

Charles Seibt and Herman Regel have returned from the east, where they were setting up Bass engines.

James Stewart, a former Wabash brakeman, was killed on the Big Four road at Mt. Carmel, Ill., a few days ago.

E. T. Campbell, who was sick a week with rheumatism, resumed charge of the elevator at the electric works this morning.

Thomas J. Sellars, of Rhinesmith & Simonson's factory, is entertaining his brother-in law, Delphos Clayton, of Alliance, Ohio.

Charles Keegan, a machinist of Grand Rapids, and his wife were guests of relatives here over Christmas, returning home this morning.

Boilermaker Henry Geerken, of the Pittsburg shops, is suffering with a severe facial attack of erysipelas and is confined to his home.

The clerks in the Kerr Murray works are preparing for the annual inventory and in a few days will be actively engaged in that work.

C. S. Knight came home from California last night, and has resumed charge of affairs in his particular department at the electric works.

The following Wabash shopmen spent Christmas out of the city: J. E. Plank, Butler; H. W. Smith, Logansport, and E. A. Coleman, Wabash.

The Standard Wheel works have closed on account of the inclemency of the weather and will not resume operations until next Thursday morning.

Michael Harrigan, the night operator in the Pennsylvania office at Valparaiso, was attacked by heart disease last Saturday and the Messenger, of

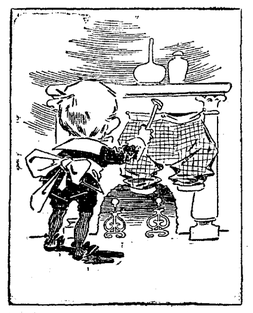
HOW LITTLE JOHNNY GOT LEFT.

[A Christmas Story With a Moral]

1—"Oh me, oh my!" cried Johnny Spudds.
"My stockings are so small;
I want so much St. Nick can't touch
Me with his gifts at all!"

2—"Aha! What's this?" cried Johnny as
He jumped high in the air.
"My sister Lou has left her bloomers lying on that chair!"



3—"I'll hang them up instead of these
Poor little socks of mine;
When Santa brings his gifts and things
He'll fix me up quite fine."

4—When Santa Claus came 'round that night
And saw those bloomers there
He smiled at first and then a burst
Of laughter filled the air.

5—"I'll take these home to Mrs. Claus,
They're just the kind she'll like;
'Cause Mrs. C., twixt you and me,
Has learned to ride a bike!"

9—There is a moral hidden deep,
Within this tale of Spudds,
Who use their sisters' duds.

that city, says his condition is such as to give rise to grave apprehensions for his recovery.

Willard Collie, the Nickel Plate operator, has gone into Michigan to spend a few days.

Mr J. B. Barnes, superintendent of motive power of the Wabash, was in the city over Christmas.

G. J. DeVilbiss, apprentice machinist in the Wabash shops, was the guest of friends at Springfield, Ill., yesterday.

John Greer, of the Kerr Murray works, is at Warsaw, Ind., where he will spend the balance of the week with relatives and friends.

Jasper Metzner, a passenger conductor on the Grand Rapids road, is sick and his run is being looked after by Conductor John Grace.

Joel H. Kinkead, of the Pittsburg copper shop, and his wife went to Middlepoint, Ohio, Tuesday evening to spend Christmas with relatives.

According to the Pittsburg Post, the Pennsylvania officials in that city know nothing of the purchase of 100 acres of land at Lima for yard purposes.

The wife and children of Cloyd Ellenwood, the Pittsburg fireman, are quite ill and that gentleman is kept from his train duties thereby.

W. F. Fisher, coppersmith in the Pittsburg shops, ate turkey with friends at Upland, Ind. He was accompanied to that city by Mrs. Fisher.

Master Mechanic C. H. Doebler, of the Big Four, who with Mrs. Doebler spent Christmas with her father, H. N. Ward, returned to Wabash this morning.

The absentees from the Bass blacksmith shop are Jacob Keller, who has gone visiting in the country, and Gus Lichel and Jacob Rourer, who are sick.

Marshall R. Humphrey, Nickel Plate fireman, was the guest of his father at Huntington yesterday. The elder Humphrey is a merchant policeman.

Hewes Piper is lying quite ill at the home of his grandfather, James Hewes, 142 East Lewis street. The young man is employed in the Pittsburg copper shop.

Christmas travel was unusually good this year. The ticket sellers had to "hump" themselves to wait upon all those who applied at the wickets for tickets just before trains came in.

John Stahley, a former Nickel Plate conductor and citizen of Fort Wayne, is now owner of one of the largest saloons of Tiffin Ohio and is seemingly prospering in a financial way To a SENTINEL reporter who saw him a few days ago Mr. Stahley said: "Give my regards to my old friends in Fort Wayne and tell them I wish them a happy New Year."

During the year 1895 there were constructed in the southern states 685 miles of standard gauge railroad, the greatest number of any year in the last decade.

Miss Emma Porter, of Peru, who was the guest of her brother, Charley Porter, of the Wabash freight office, the fore part of the week, has returned to her home.

The two thousand box cars which the Pennsylvania this week has placed contracts for are to be completed by March 1, deliveries to commence within thirty days.

Blacksmith Terrence Martin of the Pittsburg shops, is laying off this week to entertain his son, who came down from Chicago Tuesday to spend holiday week with his parents.

Fred Dickmeyer, M. R Hardendorf, Frank Meyers and William Hayes resumed work at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop this morning. Mr. Dickmeyer was sick a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Meek went to Pierceton, Ind., yesterday to spend the balance of the week with the lady's parents. Mr. Meek is the Nickel Plate telegraph operator.

Engineer John E Long, of the Pittsburg, is sick. Engineers Rodney Ellenwood and William Lohrman, of the same road, have recovered from their sickness and resumed work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira A. Smith, of 176 Gay street, were guests of friends at Warsaw yesterday. Mr. Smith is a brick mason and keeps the furnaces in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop in repair.

Thomas Beals, Frank Barns and Charles Bohlinger, of the Pittsburg round house, enjoyed Christmas with their families. Other employes of the round house were compelled to work as usual.

It is expected that the Brice syndicate will announce its ownership of the Ohio Southern road in a few days. This at least is the belief of those who ought to know something about the matter.

The Central Traffic association has refused to make a reduced rate on the roads leading into this city on the occasion of the meeting of the Indiana State Dairy association, December 27 28, which meets here.

Gustave L Hackius, treasurer of the Kerr Murray Manufacturing company, who had been making a tour of the large cities in the interest of the firm, arrived home in time to spend Christmas with his family.

David L Judy and his wife are the guests of Mrs. Henry Trone, of Superior street. Mr. Judy is a machinist who recently left this city for Dayton to work for Barney & Smith He called at the Pittsburg shops this morning to shake hands and chat with his old comrades there for a few minutes.

The Pittsburg car shops and lumber yard's absentee list includes the following names this morning: H. Beck, L. Gronau G. Hill, J. M. Zollars, H. L. Stonecifer and M. Kinnie. All are supposed to be sick.

E A. Knight, a Pennsylvania car inspector, stationed at Indianapolis, spent Christmas with friends in this city. Mr. Knight was formerly employed on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road and resided in Grand Rapids.

William Donnell, foreman of the polishing department of the electric works, allowed one of his hands to come in contact with the machinery this morning, and the member was badly cut. He will be off duty a few days

The following employes of the Pittsburg machine shop spent Christmas out of the city: M. H. Hobrock, Chicago; E G. Pierce, Wellsville, Ohio; W. T. Marks, Cleveland; Randolph Breese, Bellefontaine; A. L. Blake, Cincinnati, and C. W. Hall, Pittsburg.

Among the most favored of Santa Claus' friends were P. J. Singleton, machinist, and M. R Hardendorf, blacksmith of the Pittsburg shops, each receiving as a Christmas gift a son. Both papas are receiving congratulations today with becoming dignity.

Supt. E. A. Gould, of the Wabash, yesterday manifested a proper Christmas spirit by announcing that all employes under suspension for infraction of the rules should report for duty this morning. Quite a number of men no doubt profited by the order.

The Knights of Pythias and the members of Sion S. Bass post, G. A. R., turned out in great numbers to the funeral of their late brother and comrade, William Z. Holverstott, which occurred yesterday morning. The remains were taken to Cromwell for interment.

The friends of Conductor Cliff Ellenwood will be pained to learn that he is again afflicted with nervous disease similar to the attack which kept him from his train duties several weeks last spring He is not now confined to the house all the time, but he is incapacitated for duty.

The new shops of the New York Central at Depew are said to be the most complete in every respect ever built in this country. The shops are equipped entirely with modern machinery, well lighted and ventilated, and one of the finest electric light plants in the country was completed this week.

The Huntington electric light station's engine broke down last night and that city was in darkness for several hours. Cyrus Burkett, the mechanical engineer, who has charge of the station, came up here this morning to have the broken piece of machinery repaired. Five or six years ago, Mr. Burkett worked in the Bass machine shop and he never fails when in the city to call there and chat a while with the 'boys."

Charles Dorn, a six year-old boy, will be a shining example of the folly of allowing little ones to make a play ground of railroads. Last week, at Delphi, Charlie was standing by the tracks playing tag with the cars in a passing freight train, when his hand caught in one of the hand holds and he was jerked beneath the wheels, cutting off both feet. The attending physician thinks the lad will live, but if he does he will probably be a burden upon his relatives.

What's your husband's work?

Does he have to do anything as hard as your washing and scrubbing? It can't be. What can a man do that's as hard, for most men, as this constant housedrudgery is, for most women? If he has any sympathy for you, tell him to get you some Pearline. Sympathy is all very well, but it's Pearline, not sympathy, that you want for washing and cleaning. Nothing else that's safe to use will save you so much downright hard work at the washtub or about the house. It saves money, too—saves the ruinous wear on clothes and paint from needless rubbing. 461

Millions NOW USE Pearline

ALWAYS SHARP SHOD WITH THE NEVERSLIP
THESE CALKS ABSOLUTELY PREVENT SLIPPING AND ARE REMOVABLE STEEL CENTERED AND SELF-SHARPENING

ONE TRIAL WILL CONVINCE YOU. Your horse being always sharp shod, is ready for work. His feet are always in good condition, and he is not constantly at the blacksmith's being sharpened, which ruins his feet, causing great expense and loss of time to you. Remember, once shod with "Neverslips" you can easily put in new Calks when needed without removing the shoes.

BE SURE your horse shoer has "Neverslips" on hand; have him SHOE WITH NO OTHER. Send your address for descriptive circular with full information, MAILED FREE.

C. Michaels, of Fort Wayne."

One of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred at the residence of Louis Miller, No. 274 Webster street, Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. William Erdmann, of Stony Island, Ills., and Miss Lizzie Mack, of this city, were united in marriage by the Rev. Philip Wambsgans, assistant pastor of Emanuel's Lutheran church, in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Aug Erdmann, Misses Louise and Minnie Erdmann, Messrs. Aug., jr. and George Erdmann, of Columbia City; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mack, of Maysville; and Godfrey Mack, of Indianapolis. The happy couple left this morning over the Nickel Plate for Stony Island, their future home, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

The employes of the Kimball piano company arranged a very plersant surprise Christmas dinner upon their manager in this city, Mr. I. H. Case, yesterday. Late in the afternoon he was induced to go to the storeroom in the Arcade building and upon his return to his home, 332 West Washington street, he found his agents and employes in possession of the house to extend him a warm Christmas greeting. Dinner was served at 5:30 and it was an elaborate affair in five courses. The honors were done by Mrs. Case and daugnter, Miss Nettie Case, and they made everybody feel at home. Those who were present were: W. J. Holt, J. W. Lane, H. C. Eastwood, W. D Kyle, J. C. Arthur, J. H. Foster, George Conklin, R. A. Bobbitt, John Emerick and J. Wells, of this city, and R. S. Wood, of Greenfield, O. The evening was most pleasantly spent. Mr. Case is popular with his men and manager and employes have a very close friendship for each other.

Jacob Ganzer, a baker at Barcus' bakery, was severely burned by a gas explosion in the oven a day or two ago. He is confined to his home by the injuries.

Yesterday was a merry Christmas at the Indiana home for feeble minded youth. Every child in the institution received some present and their happiness was supreme. The grand success of the entertainment last week made this distribution of presents possible and those who purchased tickets for the entertainment have the satisfaction of knowing that they witnessed a splendid concert and also helped to gladden the hearts of the children.

The Sunday school of the Congregational church gave a Christmas entertainment last evening which was largely attended and proved a success. The cantatta, 'Good Time of Santa Claus," was produced. Ed. Beaver was Santa Claus, Miss Mary Cairns was Mother Goose, and the three angel characters were taken by Misses Elsie Johnson, Eula Davis and Gertrude Gilbert. Miss Laura Kimball rendered the piano music for the Cantatta. Fine solos were sung by Miss Cairns and Charles Foote and a recitation was delivered by Miss Flossie Davis. The cantatta was under the management of Mrs. J. S. Ainslie, who deserves credit for the success of the entertainment.

TWO LIFE MEN PAROLED.

Governor Matthews Makes Two Acceptable Christmas Gifts.

Governor Matthews issued two paroles yesterday which will be to the recipients the most pleasant Christmas gifts they could have desired. Two life men were paroled from the penitentiary.

John Kennedy was paroled, having been in the penitentiary since 1877. He was sent from Indianapolis for the murder of Clarence McCue on October 5, 1876, and has been in prison eighteen years. The murder is almost forgotten now. Kennedy and McCue had been enemies and their trouble ended in the murder of McCue. Kennedy has the consumption and has been in poor health for some time.

Albert Foster, another life man, who was sent from Tippecanoe county for murder, was also paroled. The murder for which Foster was convicted was committed in 1881. Foster had been a model prisoner, and is in poor health. Petitions for his parole were signed by many of the leading citizens of Tippecanoe county.

A CHRISTMAS NOVEL.

CHAPTER I.

Johnny they called him for short
His full name was John Bannister Gibson Rinklewiddy, jr.

CHAPTER II.

The Christmas dinner consisted of turkey, wild duck, chicken, roast beef, potatoes, turnips, parsnips, beets, celery and other vegetables. There was also plum pudding and mince pie and cake and nuts. Ice cream and orange ice abounded plentifully. Coffee and ice water could be had for the asking.

CHAPTER III.

Johnny ate a great deal of everything mentioned in our last chapter.

CHAPTER IV.

"Johnny was our pride and treasure,
He was bright and, oh! so sharp:
But he went away and left us—
Went to play a Heav'nly harp."
By His Grandmother.
THE END.

"FIGHTING RILEY."

He Was in Police Court Charged With Profanity.

Edward Riley, better known among the police as "Fighting Riley," was in police court this morning charged with using profane language on the streets. Officer Sharp arrested him near the south depots. He plead guilty and paid a fine amounting to $10 50.

ON THE STAGE.

A Huntington Young Couple is Wedded.

The audience in the opera house, at Huntington, last Tuesday night, were treated to an extra act without extra cost. "The Wife" company, which played there last night, was playing in the Huntington opera house, and between the last two acts, a member of the company announced that immediately after the last act Mr. Herbert Glanton, stage manager of the opera house, and Miss Slusser would be married on the stage in full view of the audience. As soon as the show was over the orchestra played a wedding march and the bridal party came upon the stage. Rev. H. C. Kendrick, pastor of the Christian church, who is well known here, performed the ceremony. The wedding had been arranged as a surprise and the audience enjoyed the novelty of witnessing a real wedding on the stage.

The following invitations were issued this morning:

The favor of your presence is requested at the reception to be given in honor of the Glee, Banjo and Mandolin Clubs of the University of Michigan, at the Fort Wayne Club, on Thursday evening, January the second, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, after the concert.

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

The Christmas Event at Simpson M. E. Church.

Editor SENTINEL:

The entertainment given by the junior league and Sunday school at Simpson M. E. church Christmas eve was pronounced a splendid success.

The recitations by the children were all good and well rendered.

The class recitations by the junior league were the best we have had in our church for a long time; I guess never better, and then the singing by the children was splendid. I dare not speak of anyone for all did their parts well. After this came the grinding out the treat for the children in an old time wind mill. This the children enjoyed very much. Take it all in all, it was a splendid success and none deserve more credit than our pastor pastor and his wife, who had entire charge of the program. Seldom, if ever, have we had a pastor and a pastor's wife who took so much interest in our children. It is hoped their services will be continued with us.

CONGRESS

Has to Vote on the Tariff Bill Today.

Bond Bill Will Come Up Tomorrow.

Report of Ways and Means Committee—Text of the Tariff and Bond Bills.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The committee on rules of the house today decided to report a rule to vote on the ways and means committee tariff bill at 5 o'clock today and the bond bill at 5 o'clock tomorrow. Amendments to either bill will not be allowed, although a vote for a substitute may be taken.

The democrats will demand a yea and nay vote on the adoption of the rule.

The rule reported was adopted in the house by 213 to 89, a strict party vote.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Chairman Dingley, of the ways and means committee, today reported to the house the tariff and bond bills agreed upon by the majority of the committee, and they were accompanied by the reports.

The committee on ways and means to whom was referred so much of the president's annual message and so much of the annual report of the secretary of the treasury as relates to revenue and the condition of the treasury, and also the president's special message presenting the urgency of immediate action by congress in a direction calculated to bring relief, report at considerable length, reviewing the situation in detail.

The suggestion says the report, that we need no more revenue because we have a cash balance of $50,000,000 of government notes in the treasury that can be used to pay the deficiency for the next six or twelve months is, in effect, a proposition to issue more bonds to meet a deficiency which should be met at once by providing more revenue. In other words, those who oppose raising more revenue in such a situation in effect—whether they intend to do so or not—favor borrowing in preference to paying as we go along. Your committee, believing that it is the duty of the house of representatives, to which body the constitution commits the inauguration of revenue bills, to frame and pass a measure that will yield not far from $40,000,000, sufficient to put an end to a deficiency—and to do this without delay, too—leaving to others whose cooperation is required to finally place such legislation on the statute books, to meet the responsibility in their own way.

Two facts have led your committee to look to an increase of customs duties as the most appropriate source of additional revenue. They are, first the fact that we are already raising a disproportionate amount of internal revenue which has always been regarded as a war resort. Indeed Jefferson took the ground that excises taxes should not be restored by the federal government as sources of revenue in time of peace, and the democratic national convention maintained the same doctrine in 1884. And, secondly, the fact that by increasing customs duties on imported articles which we can and ought to produce or make at home, for revenue purposes, we can at the same time incidentally encourage stricter home industries and materially aid in turning in our favor the balance of trade which has been so heavily against us all through this calendar year, and which has caused a demand for gold for export, which our treasury has been called to supply, for so long as the balance of trade is against us on account of excessive imports, we must export gold or (what is the same thing) promise to pay gold for the excess of imports over exports.

Your committee have not undertaken a general revision of the tariff on protection lines. We believe, however, that this need of more revenue is so great that a simple measure increasing all duties of the dutiable list and taking from the free list of the present tariff a few articles that were always on the dutiable list until August 27, 1894, and which have always been important revenue producers and limiting the operation of such legislation to about two years and a half until the present deficiency of revenue is overcome, ought to receive the approval of those who do not favor protective duties, on patriotic grounds; and that fact that it may incidentally encourage the production of many articles that we require at home instead of abroad will not be regarded as a ground of opposition under present circumstances.

The object of your committee has been to frame a bill mainly on revenue grounds in the hope that it would secure the approval of those in official place whose operation is essential to legislation, and who may be supposed to feel that in such an exigency as now exists the public necessity must control. Believing that such an increase of revenue as proposed is essential for the first step in the restoration of confidence and the restoration of the treasury to a sound condition, and that other legislation to be proposed to this end cannot be effective without adequate revenue to meet the expenditures of the government, your committee recommend the passage of the accompanying bill, to temporarily increase revenue to meet the expenses of the government and provide against a deficiency."

The report on the bond bill says: 'that the secretary of the treasury now has authority under the act of 1875 to issue and sell ten years' five per cent. bonds and thirty years' four per cent. bonds to maintain full redemption of United States notes, and that he has sold $100,000 000 of the former description of bonds and about $62,000,000 of the latter description of bonds in the past two years and as he announces his intention to avail himself of the authority given by the resumption act and sell more high rate and long term bonds if necessary, the only question is whether it is not clearly for the public interests that he should have authority to sell a lower rate and shorter term bond.

The committee think that it is clearly in the public interest that he should have this authority, and add: "In granting this authority, we have included in the bill a provision that the proceeds of bonds sold shall be used exclusively for redemption purposes, our object being to secure such a separation of the redemption from the ordinary cash in the treasury as will maintain and protect the revenue. We also provide that such bonds shall be offered for sale in such a manner as to invite investment among the masses of the people."

Of the certificates of indebtedness the report says: "In our judgment the secretary of the treasury should always have such authority as this to meet temporary deficiencies that are liable to arise. Unless this authority is given the secretary will indirectly use the proceeds of bonds sold under the resumption act for redemption purposes to meet the deficiency in the revenue as he has been doing during the past two years and a half."

Text of the New Bond Measure.

Bill No. 1.—A bill to maintain and protect the coin redemption fund and to authorize the issue of certificates of indebtedness to meet temporary deficiencies of revenue.

Be it enacted, etc., that in addition to the authority given to the secretary of the treasury, by the act approved January 14 1875, entitled, "An act to provide for the resumption of specie payment," he is authorized from time to time, at his discretion, to issue, sell and dispose of, at not less than par in coin, coupon or registered bonds of the United States to an amount sufficient for the object stated in this section, bearing not to exceed 3 per centum interest per annum, payable semi-annually, and redeemable at the pleasure of the United States, in coin, after five years from their date, with like qualities, privileges and exemptions provided in said act for the bonds therein authorized. And the secretary of the treasury shall use the proceeds thereof for the redemption of United States legal tender notes, and for no other purpose. Whenever the secretary of the treasury shall offer any of the bonds authorized for sale by this act, or by the resumption act of 1875, he shall advertise the same and authorize subscriptions therefor to be made at the treasury department and at the sub-treasuries and designated depositories of the United States.

Sec. 2 That to provide for any temporary deficiency now existing, or which may hereafter occur, the secretary of the treasury is hereby authorized, at his discretion, to issue certificates of indebtedness of the United States to an amount not exceeding $50 000 000, payable in three years after their date to the bearer in lawful money of the United States, or the denomination of $20, or multiples thereof, with annual coupons for interest at the rate of 3 per centum per annum, and is to sell and dispose of the same for not less than an equal amount of lawful money of the United States, at the treasury department and at the sub-treasuries and designated depositories of the United States, and at such post-offices as he may select. And such certificates shall have like qualities, privileges, and exemptions provided in said resumption act for the bonds therein authorized. And the proceeds thereof shall be used for the purposes prescribed in this section and for no other.

Provisions of the Revenue Bill.

Bill No. 2. A bill to temporarily increase revenue to meet the expenses of the government and provide against a deficiency.

Be it enacted, etc., that from and after the passage of this act, and until August 1, 1898, there shall be levied, collected, and paid, on all imported articles, made in whole or in part of wool, worsted, or other material described in section 1 of this act, except as hereinafter provided, 60 per centum of the specific pound or square yard duty imposed on each of said articles by an act, entitled, "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, in addition to the ad valorem duty now imposed on each of said articles by an act entitled, 'An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the government, and for other purposes," which became a law August 27, 1894, and on carpets, drug gets, bockings, mats, rugs, screens, covers, hassocks, besides art squares and other portions of carpetings, made in whole or in part of wool, the specific square yard duty imposed on each of said articles by said act, approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, in addition to the ad valorem duty imposed on such articles, by said act, which became a law August 27, 1894.

Sec 3. That after the passage of this act and until August 1, 1898, there shall be levied and paid on import lumber and other articles designated in paragraphs 674 to 683 inclusive of an act entitled, "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the government, and for other purposes," which became a law August 24 1894, a duty equivalent to 60 per cent. of the duties imposed on each of such articles by an act entitled, "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all conditions and limitations of said last named act, but pulp wood shall be classified as round unmanufactured timber exempt from duty; provided, that in case any foreign country shall impose an export duty upon pine, spruce, elm or other logs, or upon stave bolts, shingle wood, pulp wood or heading blocks exported to the United States from such country, then the duty upon the lumber and other articles mentioned in said paragraphs 674 to 683 inclusive, when imported from such country, shall be the same as fixed by the law enforced prior to 1890.

Sec 4 That on and after the passage of this act, and until Aug. 1, 1898, there shall be levied, collected and paid on all imported articles mentioned in schedules A, B, C, D, F, G, H, I, J, L, M and N, of an act entitled, "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the government and for other purposes," which became a law Aug. 27, 1894, a duty equivalent to 15 per cent. of the duty imposed on each of said articles by existing laws in addition to the duty of Aug. 27, 1894; provided that the additional duties imposed by this section shall not in any case increase the rate of duty on any article beyond the rate imposed thereon by the said act of Oct. 1, 1890, but in such case the duties shall be the same as was imposed by said act; and provided further, that where the present rate of duty on any article is higher than was fixed by said last named act, the rate of duty thereon shall not be further increased by this section, but shall remain as provided by existing laws.

HEALTHY AT 109 YEARS OF AGE.

Mrs. Margaret King Entertains 100 Descendants.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Dec 26.—Mrs. Margaret King celebrated her 109th birthday anniversary yesterday by giving a great dinner to 100 of her descendants. Mrs. King was born at White Oak, Ohio, on Christmas day, 1787. She came to this county when a small girl and is the oldest resident now living here. Her parents were poor, and as she married at an early age to a hard working farmer almost forty years of her life were spent in hard toil with her husband on the farm. Such things as plowing, cutting and husking corn, shocking wheat and mauling rails were common to her. Although weak from old age, she is in exceedingly good health for one of her age. She goes about the premises with ease, and frequently does light household chores. She has not worn glasses for twenty years, she having received her second sight. Her hearing and all other senses are excellent.

EIGHTEEN CARS WRECKED.

Disastrous Smash-Up on the Big Four at Milford.

A special to THE SENTINEL today says that a disastrous wreck happened on the Big Four railroad at Milford, a station north of Warsaw. A coal car broke down on a culvert and was followed into the creek by ten cars. Altogether eighteen cars were wrecked. Nobody was hurt. Four tramps escaped injury. One of them was in the coal car that broke down. Traffic on the road will be delayed for many hours.

FIGHT WITH TRAMPS.

The Hobos Take Up Quarters Near North Manchester.

Resist the Marshal and a Running Fight Ensues, in Which the Tramps are Roughly Handled.

NORTH MANCHESTER, Ind., Dec. 26.—For several days past this place has been overrun with a gang of tramps, who were camped in the woods near town. They have committed many petty offenses, and Saturday night the postoffice was robbed. Yesterday City Marshal Sonawitz collected a posse of 100 armed citizens and proceeded to place the tramps under arrest. A running fight followed, during which several of the vagrants were badly punished. After a conflict lasting three hours, eighteen of the more desperate characters were locked up to await a hearing. As many more are still at large and are threatening to burn the town. The city council held a special meeting last night and the streets are being patrolled by a large number of special police.

IT WAS THE PALME

Which Went Ashore in Kingstown Bay.

After a Heroic Battle With the Raging Sea the Sailors Manage to Reach a Place of Safety.

DUBLIN, Dec. 26.—The large three masted vessel seen on Tuesday last flying signals of distress in Kingstown Bay, turns out to be the Russian bark Palme, Captain Eriksen, from Liverpool, on December 18, for Mobile, Ala. As cabled exclusively to the Associated Press at the time, a life boat which went to her assistance was capsized and her crew of sixteen men were drowned and a second lifeboat which attempted to assist the Palme was capsized and returned to the shore with the greatest trouble. The crew of the Palme cut away her masts, and eventually all on board, eighteen souls in all, were rescued by a passing steamer today. The rescued people included the captain's wife and child.

ALGIERS, Dec. 26.—The British steamer Bellerophon has been in collision with and has sunk the French steamer Emile Selsise at the entrance of the harbor. Thirty passengers of the Emile Selsise, including twenty-five natives, were drowned.

ZELLA GUESSES AGAIN.

Her Demand for $100 a Week on the Stage is Laughed At.

ST LOUIS, Mo., Dec 25.—Zella Nicalaus is in St Louis—incog, as it were—a guest at the Planter's hotel. On the register are the names of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ruhmann. Mrs. Ruhmann is Zella Nicalaus. Her mission in St Louis is to secure an engagement with the New York theatrical managers, Davis & Keogh. The traveling manager of the firm, Cud Given, who represents all the Davis & Keogh attractions, and especially "The Hustler," which will open an engagement at Havlin's, the week of January 5, is in St Louis, and it was to Mr. Given that Zella Nicolaus made application for a special engagement with "The Hustler," to be followed by a permanent engagement with one of the companies. Mr. Ruhmann opened up negotiations, and Manager Given asked him to come right to business and name terms, whereupon Mr. Ruhmann sent for Zella, who said: "Well, I guess I ought to be worth about $400 a week."

Manager Given is nothing if not an an icebergian, and his response was: "Thanks, young lady, you have another guess."

Mr. and Mrs. Ruhmann promptly grasped the situation, and suggested an offer for one week with "The Hustler," in St. Louis, on a percentage basis, which Manager Given declined to consider.

EDUCATORS OF INDIANA.

Pedagogues of the State to Assemble at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 26.—Educators of Indiana have begun to arrive here for the several annual meetings which are held during Christmas week, and which are composed of all classes engaged in the school work, from the president of the university to the humblest teacher in the district school. The most important meeting is that of the state teachers' association, which convenes this evening and which will be in session two or three days. The college association will also be in session, and adjuncts of these two, consisting of school officers, high school and country school sections, and town and county superintendents, will also hold meetings. The Indiana Academy of Science, which is intimately connected with the college association and whose sessions are enlivened by a subdivision into various scientific sections, will meet at the same time. The various bodies will hold their sessions in the state house and it is expected that several hundred pedagogues will be in the city during the week. The work will be confined entirely to subjects of interest to persons engaged in the different branches of school work.

KWAN PING WRECKED.

A Relic of the Japan-China War Destroyed.

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 26.—The cruiser Kwan Ping, one of the warships captured from China by the Japanese during the recent war, was wrecked on the Pescadore Islands on Saturday last. Nearly all her deck officers and sixty men are missing.

LIKE A DEMON

Did John Wienhart Fight a Monon Detective.

The Frenzied Man Wounds the Detective and a Passenger and Then Jumps From the Train.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 26.—The Monon Chicago passenger train which arrived here yesterday morning brought intelligence of an exciting time on the train between Englewood and Hammond Junction Tuesday night. John Wienhart, of this city, had boarded the train as it was leaving Chicago, and had been put off by Detective McQuaid, of the Monon road. At Englewood, when the conductor came through he discovered Wienhart on the train again. Detective McQuid had come in the car with Conductor Byers, also of this city, and the moment Wienhart saw the detective he took it for granted that he was to be again ejected. Springing to his feet he drew a revolver and fired at McQuaid. The bullet cut a gash in McQuaid's face and Conductor Byers' face was burned with the powder. McQuaid grappled with Weinhart, while Byers ran for his own pistol. Charles Jack, of this city, who was in the baggage car seized a hatchet and hurried to McQuaid's assistance. The three men overpowered Weinhart and secured his pistol. It was thought the trouble was over, but hostilities were soon renewed. Weinhart had gone to the rear of the coach, and McQuaid followed close behind him, revolver in hand. The men were speedily engaged in another conflict. McQuaid fired this time. In the struggle Wienhart secured McQuaid's revolver, and started for the forward end of the car, pursued by both Jack and McQuaid. Wienhart began firing, discharging three chambers of the revolver. One of the bullets struck a closet in the forward end of the car and cut a gash in the head of a boy passenger. The latter had his injuries dressed by a doctor at Lowell. The wound was not serious. By this time Wienhart was near Conductor Byers, and ordered him to stop the train. For an answer the conductor slammed and locked the door in his face. Finding the conductor would not stop the train Wienhart reached for the bell cord, which he jerked violently and sprang from the train. The glass in the door of the smoking car was broken and the coach has a number of bullet holes.

Wienhart was raised in this city. He has been to the asylum once or twice, and when he has been drinking is an ugly citizen. Some time ago he was brought before the mayor, the arrest being made by his brother, who is on the police force. John became so abusive and threatening that Officer Wienhart, to protect himself, had to give him a trouncing in the court room.

THE COURTS.

Cases Disposed of and on Trial in the Courts.

The case of the Fort Wayne Journal against Michael E. Burns for $125 was tried in Justice France's court this morning and the plaintiff secured a judgment for $102 98. The defendant filed an offset of $250 for services for overtime. Breen & Morris were attorneys for the plaintiff and James H. Powers for the defendant. Mr. Burns was formerly advertising solicitor for the Journal but is now proprietor of the Evening Post.

Justice Huser and a jury are hearing the case of Frederick Helling against William Hock. Will Ninde is attorney for the plaintiff and G. W. Loutit for the defendant.

The case of the Jenny Light and Power company against Joseph Eliam is on trial to Justice Bohen and a jury. Judge Morris and G. W. Loutit are attorneys for the plaintiff and J. W. Wilson for the defendant.

Amos L. Hetrick and Rosa A. Abbott, Perry J. Crates and Effie V. Freidline, Frank X. Roussey and Rosa Gladieux have been licensed to wed.

The will of Henry J. Poysen has been filed with the county clerk. He leaves his property to his wife.

Joseph Notestine has been fined $1 and costs for selling liquor without a license.

A WHITE CAT.

Is Changing Color and Has Turned Almost Brown.

At Bond's mill, on East Columbia street, there is a freak. It is a cat. This cat has been a resident of the mill for a long time and she has always been a white cat until this morning.

Today the feline has been changing color. It was about 7 30 o'clock this morning when some one in the mill noticed that the cat was not of her usual snow white color. Her face, head, neck, fore legs and breast began changing color, and they continued to change until by noon they become almost brown. The change of color was extending gradually all over the cat's body, and unless it stops soon she will be a brown cat instead of white.

Just what causes this change nobody seems able to tell. The cat was not out of the mill office all morning to get into anything and the people about the mill who know the cat best think she is simply tired of the monotony of wearing one kind of fur all her life.

JUST MISSED HIM.

A Broken Trolley Wire Drops Into a Car Vestibule.

Motorman Frank Bobay, of the Lewis street and Spy Run avenue street car line, had a close call this morning. Near the St. Joe river bridge, just this side of the Feeble Minded home, the trolley wire broke. As the live wire fell, the end of it crashed through the window of the vestibule, narrowly missing Bobay's head. It struck the car and burned a hole in the woodwork. Had the wire struck Bobay he would no doubt have been eletrocuted.

The break caused traffic on all the lines to be delayed for about twenty minutes until repairs could be made.

SIR PAUNCEFOTE

Calls Upon Secretary Olney This Morning,

And Receives From Him Official Notice of the Appointment of a Venezuelan Commission.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Among Secretary Olney's callers today was Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, accompanied by Mr. Sanderson, the British consul general at New York, a brother of Sir T. P. Sanderson who drew the "Sanderson line" in the British Guiana boundary dispute and addressed the two notes to Dr. Pulido and Dr. Urbaneja, of Venezuela, which are claimed by the Venezuelans to have eminated from Lord Salisbury. It is stated officially that the call was of a social nature, but frequently important business is transacted on diplomatic reception days. Outside of the Venezuelan question there are a number of minor subjects concerning postal exchanges, etc., which engage the attention of the state department and the British authorities.

A strong impression prevails, as a result of the visit today, that Secretary Olney has officially notified the British representative of the enactment of the law for the creation of the Venezuelan boundary commission. This, of course, is such a matter of public notoriety that the ambassador has cognizance of the facts, but an official notification of the action of this country would bring out the attitude of Great Britain toward the commission.

LOCAL LINES.

At the Christ's Lutheran church entertainment Christmas eve, Santa Claus presented many pretty and valuable presents to the Sunday school scholars. There was an excellent program rendered, the song entitled "Where the Christmas Presents Grow," by Miss Lulu Meyer, and a recitation by Miss Bertha Bowersock, being especially worthy of mention.

The death of Mrs. Otto Koso occurred this morning at the residence, six miles east of the city on the river road. Death resulted from a complication of diseases from which she had been suffering for some time. The deceased was fifty six years old and leaves a husband and one son, Frank. The funeral will be held at the Catholic church at New Haven at 9 30 o'clock Saturday morning.

A POLICEMAN ROBBED.

Somebody Steals All of Officer Sharp's Clothing.

Sharp's Residence Entered During His Absence—About $150 Worth of Goods Stolen.

Somebody, last night, robbed Officer Lot Sharp of $150 worth of clothing and other articles.

Mr. Sharp has just recently completed a new residence at No. 83 Boone street. He furnished the house in cozy style and had every thing in good shape to enjoy life. Mr Sharp is a single man, but he blushingly admits lately that he will not be a single man much longer. That's why he has been so particular about getting his house in such nice shape. Since the house was furnished he has been rooming there alone, and it seems that some one knew this fact and also that he is not home at nights.

This morning when Officer Sharp went off duty and arrived home he saw that somebody had been at his house in the night. There were fresh tracks in the snow. Upon entering the house he found that the place had been robbed. The thief had entered through a cellar window and then reached the upper floors through the inside cellar door.

The burglar took away every piece of Sharp's clothing that he could find. A couple of suits, one of them brand new, shirts, underwear, hats and shoes made up the booty. Sharp told a SENTINEL reporter this morning that the only clothing he had left was that on his back. The thief even took away neckties and other small articles.

Nobody in the neighborhood heard or saw the robber and the first discovery was made by Mr. Sharp, himself. It is the common opinion that the job was done by some thief who has been arrested by Officer Sharp and that this means was taken to get even. The police department has been furnished with a list and discription of the stolen goods and the officers are working on some clues.

JUST FOR PASTIME.

Frank Bradshaw Wrote Several Bank Checks.

He Also Flourished a Big Revolver and Was Taken in by Officer Sharp.

Officer Sharp last evening found a young colored boy near the depot, on South Calhoun street, flourishing a revolver in true wild west style. Frank Bradshaw was the name of the lad, and when he saw the officer approaching he shoved the gun in his pocket and kept quiet. Sharp searched him and found the revolver in his overcoat pocket and then sent him to the police station.

Young Bradshaw has for a few days past been acting as janitor in the First National bank in place of his brother, the regular janitor, who is away on a visit. The revolver which he had last evening was a large Smith & Wesson which he had picked up off a counter in the bank and stuck in his pocket. Bradshaw had further amused himself in the bank by writing checks for various sums of money and signing other people's names to them. They were all made payable to Frank Bradshaw. One was a First National bank check for $54, signed "J. H. Bass," another was an Old National bank check for $150, signed "Mark Randal;" the third was a Hamilton National bank check for $9, signed "J. Bass." In police court this morning Bradshaw told the mayor that he had taken the revolver from the bank and that he had written the checks "just for fun." He claimed further that he had no intention of trying to pass the checks, and this was no doubt true, because they were written in such a scribbling hand that nobody would have accepted them as genuine.

Bradshaw pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons and was sent to jail for fifteen days. He was also warned to not make out any more checks for other people.

PAUL IN ROME.

Hon. H. G. Thayer Delivers a Very Fine Lecture.

Those who missed hearing the lecture delivered at the city Y. M. C. A. Monday evening by Hon. H. G. Thayer, of Plymouth, Ind., have reason to regret that they were not present. The subject was "Paul's Journey to Rome; His Imprisonment There and His Exoneration Without the City." Mr. Thayer has spent much time in Rome and in his lecture he spoke from the result of his own personal researches into the history of the city in Biblical times. Mr. Thayer followed Paul from the time he was taken before King Agrippa, charged with entertaining superstitious and dangerous ideas. He told of his journey to Rome, where he was to be given the opportunity of appeal to Cæsar. He described the route of the journey and all the scenes of interest along the way, told of the two trials of Paul by a jury, how he was convicted and sentenced to death; described the cavernous prison of stone in which Paul was confined, and painted in eloquent words the march from the prison to a point outside the gates of the city, where the apostle was beheaded. The lecture was of deep interest, and the more so from the fact that Mr. Thayer presented many minute details and descriptions of Rome and vicinity that only a traveler could do. The inclement weather kept many people away from the lecture who would have otherwise been present.

Mr. Thayer is one of the leading republicans of the state and his name is being prominently mentioned as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor. He is a successful business man and a Christian gentleman and his candidacy is looked upon with much favor. The Bourbon Mirror, edited by the veteran Ignatius Mattingly, who has known Mr. Thayer intimately for forty years, is out for him for the nomination in a forcible manner that is attracting the attention of all the politicians.

STOLE A SUIT.

A Smooth Thief Robs a Baker Street Boarding House.

Claimed to be the Friend of a Boarder, Went to His Room and Changed Clothes.

A bold thief entered the room of a Pennsylvania railroad man named Thomas, who boards at George H. Foulke' boarding house, at No. 19 Baker street, last night, and stole a suit of clothes. The fellow was a smooth looking young man. Thomas was out on the road and the thief came to the house and claimed to be his friend and said he had orders from Thomas to go to his room. A short time later he left the house and then it was learned that he had changed clothes in Thomas' room, leaving his own old suit and wearing away a good suit belonging to Thomas.

The thief was a perfect stranger to the people about the house and there is nobody, so far as known, who recognized him. He was undoubtedly one of those smooth house-workers who make good their escape.

FOR CITY LINES.

C. E. Everett Applies for Many Streets.

He Asks a Franchise for a Complete System of Street Railways Exclusive of Suburban Lines.

C. E. Everett has made application to the board of public works for a franchise for a complete system of street railways, regardless of any suburban line. After the council refused to give him the franchise he wanted in connection with the Lake Everett road, he made the new application. The routes over which Mr. Everett asks the privilege of building are as follows:

A double track system on Harrison street, from Columbia to Baker, and on Baker to Calhoun, and a single track on the following streets. On Calhoun from Baker to Murray, on Murray to Barr; on Barr to East Creighton avenue; on East Creighton avenue to Lafayette; on Lafayette to Pontiac; on Pontiac to Gay, on Gay to Buchanan; on Buchanan to Winter; on Winter to Eliza, on Eliza to Francis; on Francis to Hugh; on Hugh to Hanna; on Hanna to Montgomery, on Montgomery to Clay; on Clay to Madison; on Madison to Barr; on Barr to Jefferson; on Jefferson to Jackson; on Jackson to Pritchard; on Pritchard to Rockhill; on Rockhill to Jones; on Jones to College; on College to Swinney; on Swinney to Garden; on Garden to Taylor; on Taylor to Fox; on Fox and Shawnee avenue to Anna; on Anna and Ferguson to Broadway; on Broadway and Beaver avenue to Organ avenue, on Organ avenue to South Wayne avenue; on South Wayne avenue to Richardsville avenue, on Richardsville avenue to Hoagland avenue. On Grand street from Calhoun to Harrison, on Harrison to Dawson; on Dawson to Hoagland avenue, on Hoagland avenue to Pontiac; on Pontiac to Calhoun, on Calhoun to Grace street. On Columbia street, from Harrison to Clinton; on Clinton to Fourth; on Fourth to Sherman, on Sherman to Spring; on Spring to St. Marys avenue; on St. Marys avenue to Pape avenue, on Pape avenue across St. Marys river bridge to Van Buren; on Van Buren to Superior; on Superior to Ewing, on Ewing to Pearl; on Pearl to Harrison, and on High street, from St Marys avenue to the west city limits.

Mr. Everett names the following conditions in his application for a franchise: The first car to start on week day mornings at 5:30 and on Sundays at 8 o'clock a m; one complete round trip shall be made on each line after midnight, eight tickets for twenty-five cents; the city to receive 2 per cent. of the gross receipts of the company; passengers from suburban roads to be carried to any point on the city lines for two and one-half cents; ten hours shall constitute a day's work for employes and over time shall be paid for at the rate of one and one half hour's pay for an hour's work.

The application for the franchise is now in the hands of the board and will no doubt receive attention at once.

ARE YOU THIN?

Do You Want to Become Fleshy?

A FEW SIMPLE RULES

Flesh and Not Fat Is What Is Needed.

What thin people want is flesh and not fat. To be symmetrical and properly proportioned, every person should have a certain amount of flesh. To be plump does not necessarily mean to be fat. Fat is undesirable, it clogs and retards the action of every muscle, interferes with the healthy action of the heart and lungs, and when excession predisposes of fatty degeneration of vital organs; to say nothing of the discomfort more or less, resulting from excessive dispose tissue.

Common sense would suggest, that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump, the thing most needed would be flesh forming foods, in other words albuminous foods, like eggs, beef, oatmeal, etc. The kinds of food that make flesh are the foods that form the greater part of our daily bill of fare.

Now, the only reason so many people remain thin is because their stomachs do not properly and completely digest and assimilate the flesh-forming beef steak and eggs we eat every day.

There are thousands of such people and they are really dyspeptics, although they may not suffer any particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs. If such persons would take with their meals some preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the food would be quickly digested and the proper degree of plumpness very soon secured, because these Tablets are prepared exactly for that purpose. They will digest every variety of flesh forming food, which is the sole reason why they so quickly build up and strengthen thin, dyspeptic men and women.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure dyspepsia and every form of indigestion on this common sense plan, that they digest the food promptly, giving strength to every nerve and organ in the body, while at the same time the stomach has a chance to rest and recover its natural vigor. Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, dyspeptic people strong, plump and well.

This excellent preparation is manufactured by the Stuart Chemical Co., Marshall, Mich., and sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

THE house of representatives of the present congress has beaten the record in passing a tariff bill before the expiration of the first month of its session.

THE street car strike has cost Philadelphia $50,000 so far, and there is no knowing how much more it will have to pay for the property destroyed by rioters. Strikes do not pay.

THE farmers of Kosciusko county are talking of the peppermint industry and will experiment the coming season. There is not much experiment about it as it is an aquatic plant indigenious to marshes. It is getting to be quite an industry in some counties in the northern part of this state where lakes and marshes are plenty. Where it can be successfully cultivated, it yields a good revenue for time and labor expended.

AFTER the second revenue bill has been disposed of tonight the house will do little business until Monday, Jan. 5, and will practically have its holiday recess, of which it has partly been deprived, next week. It cannot well adjourn for more than three days under the rules while the senate is in session, but it was decided at the meeting of the committee on rules that there will be formal meetings every third day, with adjournments over, and that no important business will be done.

EX-CONGRESSMAN HOLMAN at last finds himself in a position to approve an act of Mr. Cleveland. He heartily endorses the Venezuelan message. Great Britain would yield all of British Guiana before she would risk a war with the United States, he says. He thinks a war would result in the utter annihilation of the British government, the subjugation and annexation of Canada and the independence of Ireland. Before the war concluded, he thinks there would be a treaty of closer alliance between all the governments of the western hemisphere, and the United States would be recognized as the central power, with all the sister republics more or less dependent upon her.

IF one desires to know whether the people of Chicago are sufficiently taxed he has but to learn that for city purposes alone the enormous sum of $23,945,360 20 was collected during 1895. These figures do not include moneys collected for the construction of the drainage canal, the maintenance of town, county and state governments, nor the park systems, the combined collections for which purposes aggregate more than ten million dollars, thus making a grand total of nearly thirty-four million dollars paid by the people of Chicago, or more than $20 each for every man, woman and child in the city.

IT is curious that those who have been in the habit of abusing the president but are now enthusiastic over his Venezuelan message and those others who have hitherto admired him but now lament the Venezuelan message as an error, equally fail to perceive how absolutely consistent and uniform the foreign policy of this administration has been. It has been, in fact, the traditional policy of the United States, which very rarely has been interrupted, the policy of keeping our own hands off territory that does not belong to us and insisting that European nations, as far as affects America, shall do the same.

THE republicans of the house are making a mistake in trying to tinker with the tariff again. The bill passed by them yesterday can hardly be passed in the senate, and even if it should, it cannot receive executive approval. There is but very little chance of its becoming a law, and the republican managers know it. The measure is useless, since it is simply intended to provide for tariff revenue, which the government does not need. Should it become a law it would prove mischievous by upsetting our tariff system again and disturbing business just at a time when it should be free from such disturbance.

THE question is asked: What are the confederate disabilities which congress has so tardily removed? In 1866, under the stress of reconstruction and the making of other adjustments as to the people of the southern states, congress passed the following law:

No person who has served in any capacity in the military, naval or civil service of the so-called confederate states, or of either of the states in insurrection during the late rebellion, shall be appointed to any position in the army of the United States.

Last week, under the impulse of the Venezuelan outburst, Senator Hill introduced a bill repealing this act, and on Tuesday the senate passed it. It will probably go through the house with equal celerity, and thus the last of the disabilities imposed upon those who had served the confederacy will be removed from the statute book.

THE disposition of the vast numbers of sheep that have been placed on the market can mean but one thing, says the National Stockman, that we have made an enormous increase in our mutton consumption during the past few years. Cheapness and improved quality combined have done much to advance the popularity of mutton. It is now a staple article of diet in many families where formerly little or none was used. The prejudice against it on the part of many people is being surely overcome as the quality of the meat is improved, and unless prices are out of proportion to other meats we may look for a continued growth in the consumption. The influence of this increasing demand for mutton is now being felt in the cattle markets. It is impossible for beef to compete with cheap mutton and pork, except at corresponding prices, which accounts to a large extent for the downward tendency in cattle.

It is true, as the English papers say, that the Monroe doctrine is not binding upon other nations. But it is very binding indeed upon the United States, so binding that if at any time it is necessary to fight to enforce it we stand ready to do so at 24 hours' notice. The Monroe doctrine is a distinct part of the code of the law of nations so far as the United States is concerned. That much is sufficient. By maintaining this doctrine straight through and making others respect it, in time we shall have it understood of all countries as a part of the international law of the western hemisphere, and they will respect it and leave that hemisphere strictly alone, except so far as the possessions they at present have are concerned. Perhaps the occasion has now been reached for us to enforce the doctrine so emphatically that from this time on there will be no disputing it on the part of European powers. As President Cleveland said in his message, "The Monroe doctrine was intended to apply to every stage of our national existence and cannot become obsolete while our republic endures."

With the present war feeling in the country the bill of Senator Hansbrough to prevent the desecration of the American flag by printing business advertisements on it ought to pass congress with a rush. Love for the flag is a matter of sentiment, and that sentiment ought to be kept as pure and enthusiastic as possible. It is a desecration and a degradation of the flag of this Union to print advertisements upon it.

It would not be necessary in case of war with England for this country to send men to Venezuela. We would engage England's attention so thoroughly on our northern border that the little army of Crespo would be quite able to cope with all the British soldiers that could be spared to stretch out along the Schomburgk line.

Spain sympathizes altogether with England in the Venezuelan difficulty. That is what the United States gets for being so forbearing to Spain in the matter of the Cuban revolution.

A disgusted man says: "The sooner the courts get rid of the hysterical women that flood them the better. Otherwise they will become the laughing stock of the country."

GENERAL SPINNER'S STATUE.

Grateful Women Will Rear It to His Memory When Congress Designates a Site.

Nearly 7,000 women are at present earning a living and aiding in the support of families in the departments at Washington because General Francis E. Spinner, late treasurer of the United States, had the nerve to urge the employment of women in the treasury. The women have not forgotten their friend, and a heroic statue of General Spinner has been designed, cast and paid for through their efforts. For nearly two years the statue has been completed, but thus far the grateful women have been unable to place it before the public, owing to the fact that congress has not been willing to cease talking long enough to pass a joint resolution designating a site. It is believed, however, that the present congress will take the necessary action and that the statue will ere long be placed on one of the approaches or buttresses of the treasury department.

THE SPINNER STATUE.

The statue represents the former treasurer standing in a characteristic attitude with his familiar old cloak hanging about him, his hand thrust into the bosom of his coat and his hat on his head. The face, like that of Lincoln, is homely, but strong and full of character.

General Spinner was born in Mohawk, N. Y., Jan. 21, 1803, and was of German descent. He was elected to congress as an antislavery Democrat in 1854, but was an active Republican from the formation of the party. He served six years in congress and was treasurer of the United States from March, 1861, to July, 1875. In 1862, when many clerks in the treasury enlisted in the army, Spinner suggested that women be employed in the different departments. The proposal met with opposition, but Spinner gained his point.

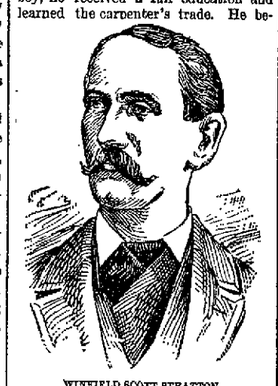
Miss Jennie Douglass, a powerful girl, was the first to be employed, and she so plainly demonstrated that women could trim bank notes as well as men that others of her sex were given positions. As a result of General Spinner's act nearly every important country in the world now employs women in its civil service. Before his death General Spinner said that the fact that he was instrumental in opening the departments to women gave him more real satisfaction than all the other deeds of his life.

"OLD MAN STRATTON."

The Gold Fever Impoverished Him For Years, but Now He Is Worth Millions.

"Old Man Stratton" has struck it rich, but he is the same quiet, unostentatious carpenter miner that he was four years ago, when he didn't have a dollar. "I don't need any larger sized hat now than I did before the Lord favored me," he says modestly. Stratton is the bonanza king of Cripple Creek. He is worth millions, but how many he does not know, for the reason that he considers his mines safer than any banks on earth. "When the ore is in the mine, no one can steal it," he says sententiously, "and banks can't fail with my money in their vaults. Whenever I want money for anything, I have only to take the ore out of the mine and sell it."

Winfield Scott Stratton is a native of Jeffersonville, Ind., and despite the antiquity suggested by his sobriquet he is only 46 years of age. He looks much older, however, for the hardships of "the fierce race for wealth" have whitened his hair and mustache. When a boy, he received a fair education and learned the carpenter's trade. He became an adept workman and not only made money, but saved it—that is to say, he saved it until he found an opportunity to invest it in some mining scheme. If he had one weakness, it was his craze for this form of speculation. At first he was an easy prey for the sharks who follow in the wake of the golden ship, and on one occasion he paid $3,000 that he had earned with the saw and jack plane for a one-fifth interest in a hole in the ground he had never seen.



WINFIELD SCOTT STRATTON.

As the years passed, however, he cut his wisdom teeth so far as mining was concerned. He took a special course in assaying and mineralogy and became an adept prospector. He would work at his trade until he had a little money, and then he would go into the mining business again. He was among the first at Cripple Creek and was about to leave the camp in disgust when he angrily kicked a jutting rock and discovered that it contained gold. He promptly staked out a claim and developed it into the rich Lone Star mine. He later secured the Independence mine, which in a single year paid him $675,000. Many experts in Colorado declare that he owns the richest gold mines in the world. Notwithstanding his immense wealth Stratton lives in a common frame shanty and saves his money.

VENEZUELA'S GREAT STATESMAN.

Senor Andrade, Lawyer and Diplomat, His Country's Only Foreign Minister.

Like Ah Sin, Senor Andrade, Venezuela's minister to the United States, is childlike and bland, but the impression is rapidly gaining ground in Washington that he is one of the shrewdest and ablest diplomats at the capital. He is the only minister his government maintains at the capital of another country, and the success of his mission is of vital importance to Venezuela. Venezuela's diplomatic relations with England have been broken off since 1887, when that great absorber of little nations took possession of the territory within the old Schomburgk line, declaring it to be British ground. Then the Venezuelan minister at London, Dr. Rojas, was recalled.

For three generations the Andrade family has been prominent in the political and military life of Venezuela, and the minister comes naturally by his talent for statecraft. He is a scholar, a profound thinker and a shrewd student of men and public affairs. For many years he has been a leader in the politics of his country and has served in the senate and house and as president of the state of Zulia. For 12 years he lived in the United States of Colombia and studied law. He then visited the various republics of North and South America and the different countries of Europe, studying the people and institutions until he knew them well. He speaks English, French, German, Italian, Spanish and modern Greek fluently, and his rich experience in different parts of the globe has well fitted him for intricate diplomatic work. He is courteous, gentle and a model listener and makes friends wherever he goes. He first attracted attention in this country as a member of the Venezuelan and marine commissions and as a delegate to the pan-American congress.

As minister he has made no effort to excite popular sympathy with his cause and his courtesy, tact, discretion, erudition and diplomatic skill have made a most favorable impression at the state department, it is said. In the opinion of Washington officials Venezuela's momentous mission could not be in better hands.

A Misfit Quotation.

Granger Gravelscratcher was a meek little man, with a wife who was his diametrical opposite in every respect. If she opposed him in anything, her opposition went. So did he. One evening he was powerfully perusing the family almanac proverbs, when his Joey Bagstock eye fell on this soupcon of fallacious philosophy:

"Woman is the Sunday of man."

"By gosh! that's great," shouted he.

His helpmeet laid down her knitting needles and looked at him in amazement.

"What's great?" she asked after a long pause.

"Say, Susan, did you know you were my Sunday?" he chuckled.

Susan sized him up as if she supposed he were daft; then, nodding her head emphatically and accentuating each word with a blow of her fist on the table, said:

"Granger Gravelscratcher, I may be your Sunday, but I'll not let you have a day of rest until you buy me a bonnet that's fit to wear to church!"

Next morning when the meek little man kindled the kitchen fire with the almanac containing the fatal quotation, he sadly remarked:

"Man is the washday of woman."—New York Recorder.

THE PHANTOM CITY.

(By Lieut. R. A. Swift, U. S. A.)

I HAVE been connected with many foolhardy expeditions, but none more hazardous and foolish than that which took seven of us into the heart of the Navajo region in search of the "Golden City." At that time there was no one along the southwest border but had heard of this wonderful city.

It was said to be situated in the very heart of Navajo land.

That it was the lost city of Cibolo everyone agreed.

The Indians declared the country haunted by giant phantoms.

Old hunters, who had ventured far into the Navajo country, told thrilling stories of seeing its glittering towers far across a great desert on which no human being could live.

While we were led to take some stock in the mysterious city, we laughed at the tale of the deadly desert.

Old Dave Handy was our guide.

Dave's age no man could tell, but his hair was white as hoar-frost, while his step was as elastic as that of a youth not past 20.

Old Dave's pard, Apache Jack, claimed to have crossed the deadly desert and reached the wonderful city.

He told marvelous tales of the treasure he had seen there, where the walls of the houses were overlaid with gold and silver, and the towers encrusted with precious stones.

He even exhibited a curiously-chased ornament of gold which he claimed to have brought away from the land of wonder.

It had been his intention to return to the city with several comrades and bring away enough of the treasure to make them all rich.

But the fever got into Jack's bones, and he lay down to die in Santa Fe.

I think now that the man was deranged.

Where he obtained the golden ornament I cannot imagine, but that he saw in Navajo land what we afterward beheld I have no doubt.

In his dying moments he must have believed that he had reached the "Golden City."

He told Old Dave how to find the dead desert.

Dave was not fool enough to try to penetrate alone into the fastnesses of the Navajo country.

He took along six companions, of which I was one.

Avoiding all dangers, we had penetrated to the very heart of the reservation.

There Old Dave declared we must come upon the dead desert.

Riding through a mountain gap we came to the open country beyond.

"STOP!" HE HOARSELY CRIED.

Dave was in advance.

A cry broke from his lips.

"Thar she am!"

We urged our horses forward, and the spectacle that dawned on our view caused us to gasp for breath and sit quivering on our jaded animals.

We had found the wonderful city!

It rose on the open plain before us, far out, yet near enough to cause us to wonder at the tales of the perils encountered in crossing the desert.

Thirty minutes, or, at most, an hour's sharp riding must bring us to its great wall.

The buildings were magnificent in size.

We could see towers, and balconies, and gates, and parapets, and spires, and columns of temples.

The sun, hanging low, glittered on the gilded domes and flashed from the silvery spires.

In the midst of the city was a mighty temple, lifting itself high above all the other buildings, a magnificent structure that filled us with awe.

Up to that minute I do not believe one of us firmly believed he would ever set eyes on the wonderful city.

But we had found it at last.

We were spellbound.

For a long time we remained motionless, staring, staring, staring.

"Hurrah!"

The shout burst from Old Dave's lips.

He plunged his spurs deep into the horse he bestrode.

We followed his example.

Out upon the desert we dashed.

The sun was dropping behind the western mountains.

We must reach the wonderful city before darkness fell on the desert.

Madly we urged our horses forward, giving no heed to the fact that they were already well beaten by the journey of the day.

The greed of gold was on us, sending our blood in hot torrents through our veins.

We had no thought of anything but our amazing discovery.

To our bewilderment the city seemed to recede before us.

We drew no nearer.

In vain we urged our over-driven horses.

As we galloped fiercely into the desert the colossal buildings seemed to glide from us.

Then, had reason ruled, we should have drawn rein.

But no; we reeled wildly on, our nostrils filled with dust, our throats dry and parched, our eyes fixed on the siren city.

It seemed that we were entranced, fascinated, dazed, hypnotized.

At length, as the sun dropped lower, we saw a blue haze gathering about the city, which began to fade and grow dimmer.

Then it was that Old Dave came to his senses.

He wheeled his staggering horse square in front of me and caught my animal's bridle.

"Stop!" he shouted hoarsely.

He forced my horse on its haunches.

Others swept past, unheeding his command—deaf to his shouts.

Besides Old Dave and myself, but one other of all the party stopped, and that was Charlie Branzil, a young fellow of 20.

His horse was nearly spent and he drew rein.

On toward the wonderful city raced the other four, and we saw them melt into the blue haze of the desert and disappear.

Then, as we sat there, exhausted, staring after them, a weird thing happened.

The sun went down and the mystic city melted away before our eyes—vanished from view.

It was not yet dark, but the city was gone like a phantom.

"It is the mirage!"

The words came thickly from my tongue. I could not bear to think we had been tricked and yet I knew it well.

No city was there—nothing but a phantom reflection that came—whence?

We had no desire to spend the night on the desert, and so we turned back, hastening to reach the gap again before darkness settled.

We were barely successful.

But we had left four comrades in the desert.

We never saw one of them again.

Long we waited on the border of the desert, but they came not back from the phantom city.

It had lured them to doom.

Searching for them, we proceeded as far as we dared into the desert, but we found no trace of them—not even their bones.

During the three days we lingered at the border of the desert the city rose three times before our eyes in all its grandeur, and three times it melted from view, leaving the plain bare and desolate as far as the eye could reach.

To this day I have never heard that anyone has reached the "City of Gold."

But the glittering mirage has lured many a fortune-seeker to doom.

It still appears at intervals.

And somewhere on the face of the earth the wonderful city must actually exist just as it is reflected in the mirage.

But where?

COMPLIED WITH THE ORDER.

He Forwarded an Eye to Be Examined for Color Blindness.

It is reported that a short time ago an order was issued on one of the lines of the Pensylvania company for all section men to come to the office on a certain day and have their eyes examined, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. The following day a number of men appeared and passed the examination. Just before the man who had charge of the tests left the office a messenger boy came hurrying in with a small package neatly tied up and addressed to the eye inspector. The latter opened it and was surprised to find a glass eye wrapped up in tissue paper and also an old-fashioned silver watch.

The contents of the package proved a puzzle to the inspector until he unfolded a hastily scribbled note, which on being deciphered was found to read as follows

"Oye inspector: Dear Sir—The day before yesterday at nune I got word to cum down and have me ise looked after for culur blindness as ye call it. I had forty-five ties and ten rales to put down beyond the sand cut and as jerry Sullivan and Dominirk Cooly were laid up since the wake that was holded over Danny Doherty my hands war too short to spare me. 'Twas lucky that the rite eye that was first in my head was put out with a blow of a pik and me glass oye that is a perfect figger of the eye that was not put out is sent to you together with my watch for the hexamination. I culd spare the glass oyd beter than the oye in the head and if she is culur blind ll get one that aint.

Of the 4,124 sealskins brought into Port Townsend, Wash., during the season just closed, 3,650 were of female seals, an indication of the rate at which the seal herds are being destroyed. It is said by those who have been with the sealing fleets that more than half of the females killed were either nursing pups or were graved. The skins brought into Port Townsend only represent about one-eighth of the total catch of sealing fleets.

THE BLUES.

Why do Women have the Blues more than Men?

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Are not women naturally as light-hearted, brave, and hopeful as man?

Yes; but woman's organism is different from man's.

Women in perfect or good health are rarely victims of this symptom.

Women nearly monopolize the blues, because their peculiar ailments promote them.

When the female organs fail to perform their functions properly, when the dreaded female complaints appear, there is shown nervousness, sleeplessness, faintness, backache, headache, bearing-down pains, etc., causing the dreaded "let-me-alone" and "all-gone" feelings.

When the woman does not understand what the matter is, and her doctor can not or will not tell her, she grows morose and melancholy; that's the blues.

Mrs. Newton Cobb, of Manchester, O., says: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all this trouble. I cannot praise it enough. I am pleased to tell every one that it cured me; and if it will cure me, why not others? I am sure my case was severe enough." It will. Get it of your druggist at once.

BRAKEMAN WARD DEAD

After an Illness With Lung Trouble of a Year.

Brakeman Fry Loses Two Fingers at Wanatah—Office, Shop and Rail News.

William A. Ward died of lung troubles at his home, 40 Pontiac street, at 11 o'clock last night, aged sixty-one years. The deceased leaves a wife and several children. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Third Presbyterian church, Rev. J. M. Boggs officiating. The pall bearers will be Sol D. Soliday, I. N. Medsker, D. L. Beaber, William Kirkham, Simon Holmes and M. R. Johnson

Mr. Ward was born in Ohio in 1834 and moved to this city about forty years ago. He was a pioneer trainman, commencing his long service on the Pittsburg road as a freight brakeman away back in the 50's, when he was a young man and resided with his mother and sister on Baker street. When the war broke out Mr. Ward was one of the first to respond to the call for recruits, and he served faithfully during the entire war; first in Twentieth Ohio regiment and later in the Fifteenth of which he was color bearer for three years He was wounded at Mission Ridge in 1863. When peace was declared, Mr. Ward returned to Fort Wayne and resumed his old position on the railroad, soon afterwards being promoted to the passenger service. He continued in that capacity until the beginning of his last illness, about a year ago. Mr. Ward was a member of Sion S. Bass post, G. A. R, and the members of that order will turn out in a body at the funeral.

LOST TWO FINGERS.

Brakeman J. H. Fry is a member of a Pittsburg freight crew which was out with train No. 71, yesterday afternoon. At Wanatah the train was stopped to pick up some cars which were standing upon the siding. Mr. Fry attempted to make the coupling, and in doing so his left hand and arm were caught by the draw bars and badly crushed. The man was brought here on the limited last night and taken to Hope hospital where Dr. George C. Stemen amputated two of the fingers.

BRIEF MENTION.

George Frost, of Chicago, is here visiting Louis Meyers.

Edward Leach, of the Pittsburg tank shop, is off duty on account of sickness.

Mrs. T. G. Abel, wife of the Wabash yard engineer, is visiting friends in Toledo.

Thomas C. Stonebrook, of the Pittsburg shops, will return from Missouri this evening.

Councilman R. J. Fisher went to Huntington this morning on business for the Bass works.

Warren Carpenter, fireman at the electric works, is sick, and John Feiderspeil is doing the work.

Tomorrow Pittsburg engines 50 and 142 will leave the shops, having been repaired and made as good as new.

Charles W. Hall has returned from Pennsylvania and this morning resumed work in the Pittsburg shops.

Tinner F. C. Turner, who has been sick for two weeks, resumed his place in the Pittsburg shops this morning.

S. P. Marks, locomotive inspector, and J. Huhn, engine cleaner, of the Pittsburg round house, are sick and off duty.

Captain H. M. Diehl, foreman of the air brake department of the Pittsburg shops, is confined to his home by a severe cold.

Frank Walpole, Nickel Plate car inspector who was suffering with a severe attack of lumbago, was able to report for duty yesterday.

Machinist L. R. Buckwalter is sick. Other Pittsburg machinists who are off duty and supposed to be sick are G. E. Rhine, J. F. Magers and Ed Cleary.

The school of electricity met last night and will meet next Thursday night. After that time the meetings will be held on Tuesday evenings, as heretofore.

A set of locomotive drivers from the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw were sent here this morning for repairs The Bass works does considerable repairs for that railway company.

H. J. Walton, an apprentice, is still absent from his duties in the Pittsburg machine shop. He had one of his hands injured last Tuesday. The young man is a son of Flagman Horace Walton.

Pittsburg Engineer Samuel Speece is suffering from injuries sustained yesterday. He was lifting a heavy piece when he slipped and strained the diaphragm muscles in the most painful manner.

The aldermen of Peoria want annual passes from all the roads entering that city.

Fireman Herbert Minser has resumed work on the Nickel Plate after a week's illness.

Those who are on the inside say that the Southern Pacific will, in 1896, build to San Diego.

The general baggage agents will hold their fifteenth annual convention, January 15, in San Antonio, Tex.

J. H. Frank, jr., had an eye injured yesterday by a piece of steel. Dr. K. K. Wheelock attended the sufferer.

George Sweringen has returned from Chicago and yesterday resumed his duties in Shop Clerk Meegan's office.

Thomas McGee, clerk in Supt. G. L. Potter's office, has recovered from his recent illness and is at his desk again.

Nick Madden, Henry Dryer and Pat Kelley resumed their respective positions in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop this morning. The two former were sick.

Charley Knight, who is superintendsome work for the electric corporation at Greenville, Ohio, returned to that city yesterday after spending Christmas in this city.

J. V. Palmer, carpenter, C. Stahl, janitor; C. Bender, lumber handler; H. Trosin, car inspector, and Charles Habacher, painter, are sick. All work in the Pittsburg shops.

Leo Schirmeyer, messenger boy in the Pittsburg shops, is suffering with a carbuncle on his neck, which keeps him at home. Frank O'Brien is attending to Schirmeyer's duties.

H. S. Blackburn, Nickel Plate fireman, resumed work yesterday. His child was sick and for several days Mr. Blackburn remained at home to aid in nursing the little one back to health.

Brakeman Baum, who injured his back and hips by falling off a Nickel plate car, at Knox, Ind., a few days ago, is able to sit up and will, no doubt, soon be able to resume his train duties.

Master Car Builder James A. Graham and Foreman M. W. Kemp went to Indianapolis this morning to inspect some work the Indiana Car works is doing for the Pennsylvania company.

J. R. Cavanaugh, superintendent of the car service of the Big Four, who has given much study to the problem of how to use freight car equipment to the best advantage, strongly favors the pooling of cars.

La grippe seems to have broken out afresh among the Pittsburg shopmen. The disease is not of a violent form this year, however, and few of the victims are compelled to relinquish work on account of it.

It is rumored that James Murphy, of the Pittsburg boiler shop, was married in Chicago last week and that he is now preparing to go to housekeeping in Lakeside. Mr. Murphy will neither confirm nor deny the report.

The Federal Labor union meets tomorrow night. The meeting will be open to all classes of workingmen, and it is the desire of the union to have a large attendance of shop men present. The union meets at K. of L hall.

John Morrisey, a boiler maker recently given a position in the Pittsburg shops, has returned from Lima, where his family is still located and resumed his work. He will soon move his family here and make this city his permanent residence.

Machinist W. S. Wells, of the Pittsburg shops, is quite ill, the disease having temporarily paralyzed his vocal organs. Mrs. Wells is also so ill she cannot sit up. Her mother, Mrs. Robinson, of Tyner City, Ind., has been notified and is expected here today.

Warsaw Times: "Mr. and Mrs. James Breen, of Fort Wayne, spent Christmas with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wahl. Mr. Breen, who is a passenger conductor on the Pittsburg road, resumed his duties this morning, while Mrs. Breen will remain for a few days."

Engine 41, which for some time hauled a Nickel Plate local freight between Fort Wayne and Leipsic, Ohio, has gone into the shops at Stony Island for repairs, and engine 27 is now hauling the local train.

At yesterday's meeting of the board of directors of the Wabash, General Manager Ramsey was elected vice president to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Charles M. Hayes

On Tuesday, the Pennsylvania awarded contracts to eleven different firms to make extensive improvements in widening tunnels, etc., at different points. The contracts let call for an expenditure of $3,000,000.

E O Faulkner will, on January 1, become vice president and general manager of the Pecos Valley road, which, in a few years, will be an important connecting link of a direct line between St. Louis and the City of Mexico.

The officials of the New York, New Haven and Hartford, made arrangements with the city authorities of Bridgeport, Conn., which will enable the company to lay its four track main line through that city, an improvement which will cost the company $3,000 000.

The Pennsylvania compound mogul locomotives for freight service which are building at Altoona weigh, without tank, seventy six tons. They are of the two-cylinder compound type, have 279 flues, with a heating surface of 1,725 square feet, the total heating surface, with fire box, is 1,878 square feet.

The passenger department of the Pennsylvania lines is more than pleased with the results of operating its own dining cars instead of having it done by the Pullman company. It is said the passengers seem better pleased with the service, and the railroad company has not suffered financially by the change.

An eastern financial paper says that the Baltimore and Ohio railway management contemplates, sooner or later, considerable extensions of its system, and that the recent Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton purchase of the Indiana, Decatur and Western is more or less in the interest of the Baltimore and Ohio.

The Pittsburg Press estimates that next year 50,000 cars and 370 engines will be built in this country and that all the locomotive and car works will be busy by the middle of February. The Pennsylvania will build 4,000 cars and forty engines, the Wabash 3,000 cars and twenty engines and the Lake Erie and Western 1,000 cars and eight engines. It is believed that the Pennsylvania company will build all of its own cars next year, or at least the larger portion of them.

Pugilists Quarrel.

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 27.—Martin Julian and Bob Fitzsimmons had some words last night at the opera house where Fitzsimmons was giving an exhibition and Julian announced to the reporters that he would have nothing more to do with Fitzsimmons. It is thought, however, that the quarrel will be patched up.

BOLD BANDITS

Rob the Pacific Coast Jockey Club.

With Rifles They Intimidate Two Employes and Carry Off $3,000 in Hard Cash.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Secretary Leak, of the Pacific Coast Jockey club, has offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of any of the parties engaged in the hold-up of two of his employes last night, in which $3,000 was secured. This amount, he says, he himself will be responsible for, and there is a strong probability that when the directors of the Jockey club meet the reward will be considerably increased. The robbery was carefully planned and deliberately executed. The manner of attack and the avenue of escape had all been well considered. From their investigation, the police concluded that the rifles had been taken in a wagon to the scene of the hold-up, and that the wagon had been left in a convenient place, in order to convey them from the scene. No one in the neighborhood saw anyone with a rifle during that day or evening, nor were four or five men seen in one vehicle on any of the roads near the track. It is believed the rifles were taken close to the scene of the robbery and that the men who used them were careful not to be seen in company of one another until the time came for action.

SHOT HIMSELF.

Despondency, Due to Ill Health, the Cause.

DENVER, Col., Dec. 27.—John H. Husted, a well known mining man, said to be worth $500,000, committed suicide today at his home in this city by shooting himself in the head. The suicide is supposed to have been occasioned by despondency due to ill health.

Dangerous Voyage.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Dec. 27.—The steamship Strathnevis, which sailed from Tacoma October 12 for the Orient, and was about given up for lost, arrived in port about midnight in tow of the steamer Miowera. The officers report a remarkable voyage, filled with dangers and privations. On Monday afternoon last all hope of saving the vessel was abandoned and boats were manned preparatory to leaving the vessel as she was in imminent danger of drifting ashore on Destruction Island. Grave fears were entertained for the safety of the Australian steamship Miowera, which had the Strathnevis in tow for five days.

Very Remarkable.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 27.—Investigation following the murder last Sunday of Hester Curtis, an aged woman of this city, developes the rather remarkable fact that she has been the mother of twenty-five children, including seven pair of twins.

Three Stores Destroyed.

MCLEANSBORO, Ills., Dec. 27.—The general stores of Asher & Ledbetter, J. E. Robinson and T. G. Berridge & Co., burned today. Several other structures were damaged. Loss, $85,000; insurance, $33,000.

Lots of Life in Them Yet.

People whose forty-fifth birthday is behind them fancy that their power to resist disease is lessened because a cough sticks to them a few days. They change their ideas when they have tried The Pinola Balsam, for it goes right to the spot and makes the irritated throat well. The resinous substances in the pine and other trees will stop a cough every time if combined as they are in Ely's Pinola Balsam, which all wide awake druggists have for sale at 25c

Japanese Tramps.

A traveler in Japan says that the Japanese tramp takes his hot bath daily if he has a fraction of a cent to pay for it, or his cold bath if he hasn't a cent. He carries a comb, toothpicks, a razor and a tooth brush in a little bundle. A few Japanese tramps might well be introduced as missionaries in the American brotherhood, whose members do not seem to appreciate what cleanliness is "next to."

HUNTS ALL ALONE.

A Plucky Duluth Woman Who Is Handy with a Gun.

Mrs. Charles Lalond, the handsome young wife of a Duluth police official, was at last accounts away on a hunting trip in the northern woods, unaccompanied by any friend but her rifle and unerring aim. This is not the first time she has gone on a similar solitary excursion. Her husband feels no uneasiness on her account. Mrs. Lalond is a Mexican by birth. A few years ago, soon after her marriage, she paddled a canoe clear to Rainy Lake City, expecting to there meet her husband, who had been called into that country on business. He was delayed, and after waiting for him until her patience was exhausted, she started for home, and made the return trip alone, paddling her own canoe, and killing two moose and a bear on the way. In her dress for the woods, Mrs. Lalond is not a "new woman," so far as outward appearances go. She is a modest little woman of about 23, with a round, sunny face. Next to her body she wears a close-fitting suit of buckskin underwear, through which the wind cannot penetrate. No corsets impede her movements, and there is not the least suspicion of ungainliness. Over this buckskin suit Mrs Lalond wears a pair of short cloth trousers, reaching to her knees, where they are met by high boots or long-legged moccasins, as the state of the weather may require. A knit jacket covers the upper part of her body, and over this comes the cloth coat. Most any kind of cap completes the costume, and when thus attired Mrs. Lalond defies the coldest weather. Mrs. Lalond carries a 32-caliber Winchester rifle when after big game, and for small game she uses a 12-gauge shotgun.

THE KEELY MOTOR.

It Is Said to Be Completed and Ready for Work.

Interest is renewed in John W. Keely and his discoveries by recent reports of efforts made by prominent parties to control the results of his labors. A sketch of the life of the inventor will be of interest to many. John W Keely is 68 years old, although he looks much younger. He began life as a music teacher, and it was, he says, the tuning fork that gave him his first hint of the new power that he claims to have discovered. He has spent many years and much money in inventing machinery, and the Keely motor, if it is ever completed and performs the work claimed for it, will make him the greatest inventor in the world's history. For more than twenty-five years he has been experimenting with the new power which he calls "etheric vapor." He is called an imposter by some, but he lives simply and works hard, all the time. His discoveries and inventions may yet vanquish most of the difficulties that confront us to-day.

A $15,000 Gravel Walk.

The gorgeous tales of Oriental splendor tell of pathways strewn with gold dust, to be trodden by the sacred feet of royalty, and diamonds are the conventional paving material for the promenade of the princes in the fairy tales. It has been left to a St. Louis business man, writes a correspondent, to construct a gravel walk, neither long nor strikingly beautiful, that is a modern, if comparatively humble, rival of these glistening highways of fiction and fable, for it represents $15,000 in hard cash. The manager of a St. Louis coffee company is the proud possessor of this unique walk. It is composed of several tons of Brazilian pebbles, that came to him in a business way during the last few years. This firm are heavy importers of Brazilian coffee. Before the berries are ready to be roasted for the market the sacks are opened and the contents carefully examined for twigs, leaves and other impurities, the latter generally taking the shape of small pebbles about the size of a coffee berry. These came with such regularity and in such quantities that long ago the idea that they were accidentally in the sacks was abandoned and the conclusion reached that they were purposely placed in the bags to make weight. The daily discoveries of these Brazilian pebbles, which are paid for as coffee, will fill an ordinary bucket. They are still added to the gravel path as they come in.

Would Succeed Tennyson.

The accompanying portrait is of Alfred Austin, who aspires to succeed Lord Tennyson as poet laureate of England. Austin is in his sixty-first year, and was born at Headingly, near Leeds. His parents were Roman Catholics, and he was educated at Stonyhurst and St. Mary's colleges. He took his degree at the University of London in 1853, and four years later was called to the bar of the inner temple. The law did not pay, and Austin turned his attention to writing poetry. His verses were the steppingstone to a high place in English journalism, and, if rumor is to be believed, to the chair of national poet laureate. In 1865, and again in 1880, Austin vainly attempted to enter parliament He has been a successful journalist and editor.

CONGRESS

Has to Vote on the Tariff Bill Today.

Bond Bill Will Come Up Tomorrow.

Report of Ways and Means Committee—Text of the Tariff and Bond Bills.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The committee on rules of the house today decided to report a rule to vote on the ways and means committee tariff bill at 5 o'clock today and the bond bill at 5 o'clock tomorrow. Amendments to either bill will not be allowed, although a vote for a substitute may be taken.

The democrats will demand a yea and nay vote on the adoption of the rule.

The rule reported was adopted in the house by 213 to 89, a strict party vote.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Chairman Dingley, of the ways and means committee, today reported to the house the tariff and bond bills agreed upon by the majority of the committee, and they were accompanied by the reports.

The committee on ways and means to whom was referred so much of the president's annual message and so much of the annual report of the secretary of the treasury as relates to revenue and the condition of the treasury, and also the president's special message presenting the urgency of immediate action by congress in a direction calculated to bring relief, report at considerable length, reviewing the situation in detail.

The suggestion says the report, that we need no more revenue because we have a cash balance of $50,000,000 of government notes in the treasury that can be used to pay the deficiency for the next six or twelve months is, in effect, a proposition to issue more bonds to meet a deficiency which does not require more revenue in such a situation is effect—whether they intend to do so or not—favor borrowing in preference to paying as we go along. Your committee, believing that it is the duty of the house of representatives, to which body the constitution commits the inauguration of revenue bills, to frame and pass a measure that will yield not far from $40,000,000, sufficient to put an end to a deficiency—and to do this without delay, too—leaving to others where cooperation is required to finally place such legislation on the statute books, to meet the responsibility in their own way.

Two facts have led your committee to look to an increase of customs duties as the most appropriate source of additional revenue. They are, first the fact that we are already raising a disproportionate amount of internal revenue which has always been regarded as a war resort. Indeed Jefferson took the ground that excises taxes should not be restored by the federal government as sources of revenue in times of peace, and the democratic national convention established the same doctrine in 1884. And, secondly, the fact that by increasing customs duties on imported articles which we can and ought to produce or make at home, for revenue purposes, we can at the same time incidentally encourage stricken home industries and materially aid in turning in our favor the balance of trade which has been so heavily against us all through this calendar year, and which has caused a demand for gold for export, which our treasury has been called to supply, for as long as the balance of trade is against us on account of excessive imports, we must export gold or (what is the same thing) premise to pay gold for the excess of imports over exports.

Your committee have not undertaken a general revision of the tariff on protection lines. We believe, however, that this need of more revenue is so great, that a simple measure increasing all duties of the dutiable list and taking from the free list of the present tariff a few articles that were always on the dutiable list until August 27, 1894, and which have always been important revenue producers and limiting the operation of such legislation to about two years and a half until the present deficiency of revenue is overcome, ought to receive the approval of those who do not favor protective duties, on patriotic grounds; and that fact that it may incidentally encourage the production of many articles that we require at home instead of abroad will not be regarded as a ground of opposition under present circumstances.

The object of your committee has been to frame a bill mainly on revenue grounds in the hope that it would secure the approval of those in official place whose operation is essential to legislation, and who may be supposed to feel that in such an exigency as now exists the public necessity must control. Believing that such an increase of revenue as proposed is essential for the first step in the restoration of confidence and the restoration of the treasury to a sound condition, and that other legislation to be proposed to this end cannot be effective without adequate revenue to meet the expenditures of the government, your committee recommend the passage of the accompanying bill, to temporarily increase revenue to meet the expenses of the government and provide against a deficiency."

The report on the bond bill says: "that the secretary of the treasury now has authority under the act of 1875 to issue and sell ten years' five per cent. bonds and thirty years' four per cent. bonds to maintain full redemption of United States notes, and that he has sold $100,000,000 of the former description of bonds and about $62,000,000 of the latter description of bonds in the past two years and as he announces his intention to avail himself of the authority given by the resumption act and sell more high rate and long term bonds if necessary; the only question is whether it is not clearly for the public interests that he should have authority to sell a lower rate and shorter term bond.

The committee think that it is clearly in the public interest that he should have this authority, and add: "In granting this authority, we have included in the bill a provision that the proceeds of bonds sold shall be used exclusively for redemption purposes, our object being to secure such a separation of the redemption from the ordinary cash in the treasury as will maintain and protect the revenue. We also provide that such bonds shall be offered for sale in such a manner as to invite investment among the masses of the people."

Of the certificates of indebtedness the report says: "In our judgment the secretary of the treasury should always have such authority as this to meet temporary deficiencies that are liable to arise. Unless this authority is given the secretary will indirectly use the proceeds of bonds sold under the resumption act for redemption purposes to meet the deficiency in the revenue as he has been doing during the past two years and a half."

Text of the New Bond Measure.

Bill No. 1.—A bill to maintain and protect the coin redemption fund and to authorize the issue of certificates of indebtedness to meet temporary deficiencies of revenue.

Be it enacted, etc., that in addition to the authority given to the secretary of the treasury, by the act approved January 14, 1875, entitled, "An act to provide for the resumption of specie payment," he is authorized from time to time, at his discretion, to issue, sell and dispose of, at not less than par in coin, coupon or registered bonds of the United States to an amount sufficient for the object stated in this section, bearing not to exceed 5 per centum interest per annum, payable semi-annually, and redeemable at the pleasure of the United States, in coin, after five years from their date, with like qualities, privileges and exemptions provided in said act for the bonds therein authorized. And the secretary of the treasury shall use the proceeds thereof for the redemption of United States legal tender notes, and for no other purpose. Whenever the secretary of the treasury shall offer any of the bonds authorized for sale by this act, or by the resumption act of 1875, he shall advertise the same and authorize subscriptions therefor to be made at the treasury department and at the sub-treasuries and designated depositories of the United States.

Sec. 2. That to provide for any temporary deficiency now existing, or which may hereafter occur, the secretary of the treasury is hereby authorized, at his discretion, to issue certificates of indebtedness of the United States to an amount not exceeding $60,000,000, payable in three years after their date to the bearer in lawful money of the United States, of the denomination of $20, or multiples thereof, with annual coupons for interest at the rate of 3 per centum per annum, and to sell and dispose of the same for not less than an equal amount of lawful money of the United States, at the treasury department and at the sub-treasuries and designated depositories of the United States, and at such post-offices as he may select. And such certificates shall have like qualities, privileges, and exemptions provided in said resumption act for the bonds therein authorized. And the proceeds thereof shall be used for the purposes prescribed in this section and for no other.

Provisions of the Revenue Bill.

Bill No. 2. A bill to temporarily increase revenue to meet the expenses of the government and provide against a deficiency.

Be it enacted, etc., that from and after the passage of this act, and until August 1, 1898, there shall be levied, collected, and paid on all imported wools of classes 1 and 2, as defined in the act hereinafter cited, approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, and on all hair of the camel, goat, alpaca and other animals, except as hereinafter provided, and on all noils, shoddy, garnetted waste, top waste, slubbing waste, roving waste, ring waste, yarn waste, and all other wastes composed wholly or partly of wool, and on all woolen rags, mungo, and flocks, a duty equivalent to 60 per centum of the duty imposed on each of such articles by an act entitled "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports, and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations of said act; and on all wools and Russian camel's hair of class 3, as defined in said act approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, there shall be levied, collected, and paid to the several duties provided by the said act approved October 1, 1890. And paragraph 279 of schedule E, and also paragraph 685 in the free list in the act entitled "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the government, and for other purposes," which became a law August 27, 1894, are hereby suspended until August 1, 1898.

Sec. 3. That from and after the passage of this act until August 1, 1898, there shall be levied, collected and paid, on all imported articles, made in whole or in part of wool, worsted, or other material described in section 1 of this act, except as hereinafter provided, 60 per centum of the specific pound or square yard duty imposed on each of said articles by an act, entitled, "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, in addition to the ad valorem duty now imposed on each of said articles by an act entitled, "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the government, and for other purposes," which became a law August 27, 1894; and on carpets, druggets, bockings, rugs, screens, covers, hassucks, besides art squares and other portions of carpetings, made in whole or in part of wool, the specific square yard duty imposed on each of said articles by said act, approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all the conditions and limitations thereof, in addition to the ad valorem duty imposed on such articles, by said act, which became a law August 27, 1894.

Sec. 3. That after the passage of this act and until August 1, 1898, there shall be levied and paid on import timber and other articles designated in paragraphs 674 to 683 inclusive of an act entitled, "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the government, and for other purposes," which became a law August 24, 1894, a duty equivalent to 60 per cent. of the duties imposed on each of such articles by an act entitled, "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, and subject to all conditions and limitations of said last named act, but pulp wood shall be classified as round unmanufactured timber exempt from duty; provided, that in case any foreign country shall impose an export duty upon pine, spruce, elm or other logs, or upon sawn bolts, shingle wood, pulp wood or heading blocks exported to the United States from such country, then the duty upon the lumber and other articles mentioned in said paragraphs 674 to 683 inclusive, when imported from such country, shall be the same as fixed by the law enforced prior to 1890.

Sec. 4. That on and after the passage of this act, and until Aug. 1, 1898, there shall be levied, collected and paid on all imported articles mentioned in schedules A, B, C, D, F, G, H, I, J, K, M and N, of an act entitled, "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the government and for other purposes," which became a law Aug. 27, 1894, a duty equivalent to 15 per cent. of the duty imposed on each of said articles by existing laws in addition to the duty of Aug. 27, 1894; provided that the additional duties imposed by this section shall not in any case increase the rate of duty on any article beyond the rate imposed thereon by the said act of Oct. 1, 1890, but in such case the duties shall be the same as was imposed by said act; and provided further, that where the present rate of duty on any article is higher than was fixed by said last named act, the rate of duty thereon shall not be further increased by this section, but shall remain as provided by existing laws.

Mrs. Margaret King Entertains 100 Descendants.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Dec. 26.—Mrs. Margaret King celebrated her 109th birthday anniversary yesterday by giving a great dinner to 100 of her descendants. Mrs. King was born at White Oak, Ohio, on Christmas day, 1787. She came to this county when a small girl and is the oldest resident now living here. Her parents were poor, and as she married at an early age to a hard working farmer almost forty years of her life were spent in hard toil with her husband on the farm. Such things as plowing, cutting and husking corn, shucking wheat and mauling rails were common to her. Although weak from old age, she is in exceedingly good health for one of her age. She goes about the premises with ease, and frequently does light household chores. She has not worn glasses for twenty years, also having received her second sight. Her hearing and all other senses are excellent.

EIGHTEEN CARS WRECKED.

Disastrous Smash-Up on the Big Four at Milford.

A special to THE SENTINEL today says that a disastrous wreck happened on the Big Four railroad at Milford, a station north of Warsaw. A coal car broke down on a culvert and was followed in the crash by ten cars. Altogether eighteen cars were wrecked. Nobody was hurt. Four tramps escaped injury. One of them was in the coal car that broke down. Traffic on the road will be delayed for many hours.

FIGHT WITH TRAMPS.

The Hobos Take Up Quarters Near North Manchester.

Resist the Marshal and a Running Fight Ensues, in Which the Tramps are Roughly Handled.

NORTH MANCHESTER, Ind., Dec. 26.—For several days past this place has been overrun with a gang of tramps, who were camped in the woods near town. They have committed many petty offenses, and Saturday night the postoffice was robbed. Yesterday City Marshal Sonswits collected a posse of 100 armed citizens and proceeded to place the tramps under arrest. A running fight followed, during which several of the vagrants were badly punished. After a conflict lasting three hours, eighteen of the more desperate characters were locked up to await a hearing. As many more are still at large and are threatening to burn the town. The city council held a special meeting last night and the streets are being patrolled by a large number of special police.

IT WAS THE PALME

Which Went Ashore in Kingstown Bay.

After a Heroic Battle With the Raging Sea the Sailors Manage to Reach a Place of Safety.

DUBLIN, Dec. 26.—The large three masted vessel seen on Tuesday last flying signals of distress in Kingstown Bay, turns out to be the Russian bark Palme, Captain Eriksen, from Liverpool, on December 16, for Mobile, Ala. As cabled exclusively to the Associated Press at the time, a lifeboat which went to her assistance was capsized and her crew of sixteen men were drowned and a second lifeboat which attempted to assist the Palme was capsized and returned to the shore with the greatest trouble. The crew of the Palme cut away her masts, and eventually all on board, eighteen souls in all, were rescued by a passing steamer today. The rescued people included the captain's wife and child.

ATHENS, Dec. 26.—The British steamer Hellerophon has been in collision with and has sunk the French steamer Emile Selsee at the entrance of the harbor. Thirty passengers of the Emile Selsee, including twenty-five natives, were drowned.

ZELLA GUESSES AGAIN.

Her Demand for $500 a Week on the Stage Is Laughed At.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 25.—Zella Nicolaus is in St. Louis—incog. as it were—a guest at the Planter's hotel. On the register are the names of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ruhmann. Mrs. Ruhmann is Zella Nicolaus. Her mission in St. Louis is to secure an engagement with the New York theatrical managers, Davis & Keogh. The traveling manager of the firm, Cud Given, who represents all the Davis & Keogh attractions, and especially "The Hustler," which will open an engagement at Havlin's, the week of January 5, is in St. Louis, and it was to Mr. Given that Zella Nicolaus made application for a special engagement with "The Hustler," to be followed by a permanent engagement with one of the companies. Mr. Ruhmann opened up negotiations, and Manager Given asked him to come right to business and name terms, whereupon Mr. Ruhmann sent for Zella, who said: "Well, I guess I ought to be worth about $400 a week."

Manager Given is nothing if not an accommodating, and his response was: "Thanks, young lady, you have another guess."

Mr. and Mrs. Ruhmann promptly grasped the situation, and suggested an offer for one week with "The Hustler," in St. Louis, on a percentage basis, which Manager Given declined to consider.

EDUCATORS OF INDIANA.

Pedagogues of the State to Assemble at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 26.—Educators of Indiana have begun to arrive here for the several annual meetings which are held during Christmas week, and which are composed of all classes engaged in the school work, from the president of the university to the humblest teacher in the district school. The most important meeting is that of the state teachers' association, which convenes this evening and which will be in session two or three days. The college association will also be in session, and adjuncts of these two, consisting of school officers, high school and country school sections, and town and county superintendents, will also hold meetings. The Indiana Academy of Science, which is intimately connected with the college association and whose sessions are enlivened by a subdivision into various scientific sections, will meet at the same time. The various bodies will hold their sessions in the state house and it is expected that several hundred pedagogues will be in the city during the week. The work will be confined entirely to subjects of interest to persons engaged in the different branches of school work.

LIKE A DEMON

Did John Wienhart Fight a Monon Detective.

The Frenzied Man Wounds the Detective and a Passenger and Then Jumps From the Train.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 25.—The Monon Chicago passenger train which arrived here yesterday morning brought intelligence of an exciting time on the train between Englewood and Hammond Junction Tuesday night. John Wienhart, of this city, had boarded the train as it was leaving Chicago, and had been put off by Detective McQuaid, of the Monon road. At Englewood, when the conductor came through he discovered Wienhart on the train again. Detective McQuid had come in the car with Conductor Byers, also of this city, and the moment Wienhart saw the detective he took it for granted that he was to be again ejected. Springing to his feet he drew a revolver and fired at McQuaid. The bullet cut a gash in McQuaid's face and Conductor Byers' face was burned with the powder. McQuaid grappled with Weinhart, while Byers ran for his own pistol. Charles Jack, of this city, who was in the baggage car, seized a hatchet and hurried to McQuaid's assistance. The three men overpowered Weinhart and secured his pistol. It was thought the trouble was over, but hostilities were soon renewed. Weinhart had gone to the rear of the coach, and McQuaid followed close behind him, revolver in hand. The men were speedily engaged in another conflict. McQuaid fired this time. In the struggle Wienhart secured McQuaid's revolver, and started for the forward end of the car, pursued by both Jack and McQuaid. Wienhart began firing, discharging three chambers of the revolver. One of the bullets struck a closet in the forward end of the car and cut a gash in the head of a boy passenger. The latter had his injuries dressed by a doctor at Lowell. The wound was not serious. By this time Wienhart was near Conductor Byers, and ordered him to stop the train. For an answer the conductor slammed and locked the door in his face. Finding the conductor would not stop the train Wienhart reached for the bell cord, which he jerked violently and sprang from the train. The glass in the door of the smoking car was broken and the coach has a number of bullet holes.

Wienhart was raised in this city. He has been to the asylum once or twice, and when he has been drinking is an ugly citizen. Some time ago he was brought before the mayor, the arrest being made by his brother, who is on the police force. John became so abusive and threatening that Officer Wienhart, to protect himself, had to give him a trouncing in the court room.

THE COURTS.

Cases Disposed of and on Trial in the Courts.

The case of the Fort Wayne Journal against Michael E. Burns for $125 was tried in Justice Fraure's court this morning and the plaintiff secured a judgment for $102 98. The defendant filed an offset of $250 for services for overtime. Breen & Morris were attorneys for the plaintiff and James H. Powers for the defendant. Mr. Burns was formerly advertising solicitor for the Journal but is now proprietor of the Evening Post.

Justice Hosier and a jury are hearing the case of Frederick Helling against William Hook. Will Minds is attorney for the plaintiff and G. W. Loulit for the defendant.

The case of the Jenny Light and Power company against Joseph Eliam is on trial in Justice Boken and a jury. Judge Morris and G. W. Loulit are attorneys for the plaintiff and J. W. Wilson for the defendant.

Amos L. Herrick and Rose A. Abbatt, Perry J. Crates and Effie V. Freidline, Frank X. Bousey and Rose Gladieux have been licensed to wed.

The will of Henry J. Rogers has been filed with the county clerk. He leaves his property to his wife.

Joseph Notestine has been fined $1 and costs for selling liquor without a license.

A WHITE CAT.

Is Changing Color and Has Turned Almost Brown.

At Bond's mill, on East Columbia street, there is a freak. It is a cat. This cat has been a resident of the mill for a long time and she has always been a white cat until this morning.

Today the feline has been changing color. It was about 7:30 o'clock this morning when some one in the mill noticed that the cat was out of her usual snow white color. Her face, head, neck, fore legs and breast began changing color, and they continued to change until by noon they became almost brown. The change of color was extending gradually all over the cat's body, and unless it stops soon she will be a brown cat instead of white.

Just what causes the change nobody seems able to tell. The cat was not out of the mill office all morning to get into anything and the people about the mill who know the cat best think she is simply tired of the monotony of wearing one kind of fur all her life.

JUST MISSED HIM.

A Broken Trolley Wire Drops Into a Car Vestibule.

Motorman Frank Bobay, of the Lewis street and Spy Run avenue street car line, had a close call this morning. Near the St. Joe river bridge, just this side of the Preble Minded home, the trolley wire broke. As the live wire fell, the end of it crashed through the window of the vestibule, narrowly missing Bobay's head. It struck the car and burned a hole in the woodwork. Had the wire struck Bobay he would no doubt have been electrocuted.

The break caused traffic on all the lines to be delayed for about twenty minutes until repairs could be made.

SIR PAUNCEFOTE

Calls Upon Secretary Olney This Morning,

And Receives From Him Official Notice of the Appointment of a Venezuelan Commission.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Among Secretary Olney's callers today was Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, accompanied by Mr. Sanderson, the British consul general at New York, a brother of Sir T. P. Sanderson who drew the "Sanderson line" in the British Guiana boundary dispute and addressed the two notes to Dr. Pulido and Dr. Urbaneja, of Venezuela, which are claimed by the Venezuelans to have emanated from Lord Salisbury. It is stated officially that the call was of a social nature, but frequently important business is transacted on diplomatic reception days. Outside of the Venezuelan question there are a number of minor subjects concerning postal exchanges, etc., which engage the attention of the state department and the British authorities.

A strong impression prevails, as a result of the visit today, that Secretary Olney has officially notified the British representative of the enactment of the law for the creation of the Venezuelan boundary commission. This, of course, is such a matter of public notoriety that the ambassador has cognizance of the facts, but an official notification of the action of this country would bring out the attitude of Great Britain toward the commission.

A POLICEMAN ROBBED.

Somebody Steals All of Officer Sharp's Clothing.

Sharp's Residence Entered During His Absence—Almost $100 Worth of Goods Stolen.

Somebody, last night, robbed Officer Lot Sharp of $100 worth of clothing and other articles.

Mr. Sharp has just recently completed a new residence at No. 83 Boone street. He furnished the house in cozy style and last every thing in good shape to enjoy life. Mr. Sharp is a single man, but he blushingly admits lately that he will not be a single man much longer. That's why he has been so particular about getting his house in such nice shape. Since the house was furnished he has been rooming there alone, and Laconia that some one knew this fact and also that he is not home at nights.

This morning when Officer Sharp went off duty and arrived home he saw that somebody had been at his house in the night. There were fresh tracks in the snow. Upon entering the house he found that the place had been robbed. The thief had entered through a cellar window and then reached the upper floors through the inside cellar door.

The burglar took away every piece of Sharp's clothing that he could find. A couple of suits, one of them brand new, shirts, underwear, hats and shoes made up the booty. Sharp told a SENTINEL reporter this morning that the only clothing he had left was that on his back. The thief even took away neckties and other small articles.

Nobody in the neighborhood heard or saw the robber and the first discovery was made by Mr. Sharp, himself. It is the common opinion that the job was done by some thief who has been arrested by Officer Sharp and that this means was taken to get even. The police department has been furnished with a list and description of the stolen goods and the officers are working on some clues.

JUST FOR PASTIME.

Frank Bradshaw Wrote Several Bank Checks.

He Also Flourished a Big Revolver and Was Taken in by Officer Sharp.

Officer Sharp last evening found a young colored boy near the depot, on South Calhoun street, flourishing a revolver in true wild west style. Frank Bradshaw was the name of the lad, and when he saw the officer approaching he shoved the gun in his pocket and kept quiet. Sharp searched him and found the revolver in his overcoat pocket and then sent him to the police station.

Young Bradshaw has for a few days past been acting as janitor in the First National bank in place of his brother, the regular janitor, who is away on a visit. The revolver which he had lost evening was a large Smith & Wesson which he had picked up off a counter in the bank and stuck in his pocket. Bradshaw had further amused himself in the bank by writing checks for various sums of money and signing other people's names to them. They were all made payable to Frank Bradshaw. One was a First National bank check for $54, signed "J. H. Bess;" another was an Old National bank check for $150, signed "Mark Randal;" the third was a Hamilton National bank check for $6, signed "J. Bass." In police court this morning Bradshaw told the mayor that he had taken the revolver from the bank and that he had written the checks "just for fun." He claimed further that he had no intention of trying to pass the checks, and this was no doubt true, because they were written in such a scribbling hand that nobody would have accepted them as genuine.

Bradshaw pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons and was sent to jail for fifteen days. He was also warned to not make out any more checks for other people.

PAUL IN ROME.

Hon. M. G. Thayer Delivers a Very Fine Lecture.

Those who missed hearing the lecture delivered at the city Y. M. C. A. Monday evening by Hon. H. G. Thayer, of Plymouth, Ind., have reason to regret that they were not present. The subject was "Paul's Journey to Rome; His Imprisonment There and His Reunion Without the City." Mr. Thayer has spent much time in Rome and in his lecture he spoke from the result of his own personal researches into the history of the city in Biblical times. Mr. Thayer followed Paul from the time he was taken before King Agrippa, charged with entertaining superstitious and dangerous ideas. He told of his journey to Rome, where he was to be given the opportunity of appeal to Cæsar. He described the route of the journey and all the scenes of interest along the way; told of the two trials of Paul by a jury; how he was convicted and sentenced to death; described the cavernous prison of stone in which Paul was confined, and painted in eloquent words the march from the prison to a point outside the gates of the city, where the apostle was beheaded. The lecture was of deep interest, and the more so from the fact that Mr. Thayer presented many minute details and descriptions of Rome and vicinity that only a traveler could do. The inclement weather kept many people away from the lecture who would have otherwise been present.

Mr. Thayer is one of the leading republicans of the state and his name is being prominently mentioned as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor. He is a successful business man and a Christian gentleman and his candidacy is looked upon with much favor. The Rourbon Mirror, edited by the veteran Ignatius Mattingly, who has known Mr. Thayer intimately for forty years, is out for him for the nomination in a forcible manner that is attracting the attention of all the politicians.

STOLE A SUIT.

A Smooth Thief Robs a Baker Street Boarding House.

Claimed to be the Friend of a Boarder, Went to His Room and Changed Clothes.

A bold thief entered the room of a Pennsylvania railroad man named Thomas, who boards at George H. Foulks' boarding house, at No. 19 Baker street, last night, and stole a suit of clothes. The fellow was a smooth looking young man. Thomas was out on the road and the thief came to the house and claimed to be his friend and said he had orders from Thomas to go to his room. A short time later he left the house and then it was learned that he had changed clothes in Thomas' room, leaving his own old suit and wearing away a good suit belonging to Thomas.

The thief was a perfect stranger to the people about the house and there is nobody, so far as known, who recognized him. He was undoubtedly one of those smooth house-workers who make good their escape.

FOR CITY LINES.

C. E. Everett Applies for Many Streets.

He Asks a Franchise for a Complete System of Street Railways Excepting on Suburban Lines.

C. E. Everett has made application to the board of public works for a franchise for a complete system of street railways, regardless of any suburban line. After the council refused to give him the franchise he wanted in connection with the Lake Everett road, he made the new application. The routes over which Mr. Everett asks the privilege of building are as follows:

A double track system on Harrison street, from Columbia to Baker, and on Baker to Calhoun, and a single track on the following streets: On Calhoun from Baker to Murray; on Murray to Barr; on Barr to East Creighton avenue; on East Creighton avenue to Lafayette; on Lafayette to Pontiac; on Pontiac to Gay; on Gay to Buchanan; on Buchanan to Winter; on Winter to Bliss; on Bliss to Francis; on Francis to Wright; on Hugh to Harmer; on Hanna to Montgomery; on Montgomery to Clay; on Clay to Madison; on Madison to Barr; on Barr to Jefferson; on Jefferson to Jackson; on Jackson to Pritchard; on Pritchard to Rockhill; on Rockhill to Lopez; on Jones to College; on College to Swinney; on Swinney to Garden; on Garden to Taylor; on Taylor to Fox; on Fox and Shawnee avenue to Anna; on Anna and Ferguson to Broadway; on Broadway and Beaver avenue to Organ avenue; on Organ avenue to South Wayne avenue; on South Wayne avenue to Richardsville avenue; on Richardsville avenue to Hoagland avenue. On Grand street from Calhoun to Harrison; on Harrison to Dawson; on Dawson to Hoagland avenue; on Hoagland avenue to Fontiac; on Pontiac to Calhoun; on Calhoun to Grace street. On Columbia street, from Harrison to Clinton; on Clinton to Fourth; on Fourth to Sherman; on Sherman to Spring; on Spring to St. Marys avenue; on St. Marys avenue to the west city limits.

Mr. Everett names the following conditions in his application for a franchise: The first car to start on week day mornings at 5:30 and on Sundays at 8 o'clock a. m.; one complete round trip shall be made on each line after midnight; eight tickets for twenty-five cents; the city to receive 2 per cent. of the gross receipts of the company; passengers from suburban roads to be carried to any point on the city lines for two and one-half cents; ten hours shall constitute a day's work for employes and over time shall be paid for at the rate of one and one-half hour's pay for an hour's work.

The application for the franchise is now in the hands of the board and will no doubt receive attention at once.

DANGER AHEAD

A Simple Case of Piles. The Forerunner of Incurable, Fatal Rectal Diseases.

A NEW PILE OURE

Which Cures Every Form of Piles Without Pain or Inconvenience.

The ordinary case of piles is one of the commonest afflictions of humanity. While they are extremely annoying, yet men and women will endure them for months and years, off and on, because they are not immediately fatal, and as long as they can go around and perform the daily duties of life they suffer on in the hope that in some way or other the trouble will pass away of its own accord, without any other treatment than a little salve or ointment occasionally. Now in the very nature of the disease this will never happen.

It is absolutely certain to grow worse passing away for a time and returning, each time before you are aware of it, an ulcer has formed and the beginning of the much dreaded fistula has been made and then, unless you at first a simple case of common, everyday piles becomes a case requiring the surgeon's knife and clutch. A painful operation, with all its attendant horrors, unpleasantness and danger to life, becomes necessary.

Although the Pyramid Pile Cure is in fact valuable in the most obstinate cases of rectal disease, yet the time to use it is at the beginning. A single package will often effect a complete cure in nearly every case. In fact two or three applications often do the work. The Pyramid Pile Cure will prove to be a certain cure for Piles in every form, but we take pleasure in publishing the expressions of gratitude, which from time to time communications is entirely wrought by us. Mr. H. H. Hellman, of Huntington, W. Va., writes:

I have used your Pyramid Pile Cure and consider it a perfect remedy for Piles. If you want to send, write me your terms and I can do some good work for you as everybody around here knows nearly I suffered and they also know I am now entirely cured.

From Mrs. S. E. Holbrook, Lowell, Ind.—Please accept thanks for your Pyramid Pile Cure. It has done me much good and in so short a time and at so little expense.

From Mrs. Xavier W. Shaw, La Crosse, Wis.: I am more than pleased with the benefit I have received from the Pyramid Pile Cure. I needed but one package. I shall write you again soon.

From E. Whitwell, Shoreham, Vt.: The package of Pyramid Pile Cure I received last November has entirely cured me of itching piles. I have tried various remedies for over forty years. I shall always keep a package of Pile Cure handy for friends. There are others I think would be glad to try it, when I cure so much and tell them what it has done for me. Accept my hearty feelings.

Letters like these are daily received by the Pyramid Pile Co. of Albion, Mich., who manufacture this remedy. It is sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents a package, and every druggist has a good word to say for it as they know better than anyone else the satisfaction it always gives in their customers.

CHRISTMAS day brought us Easter weather.

IT was summer yesterday; it is winter today.

PHILADELPHIA finished up her street railroad strike in a week.

IF congress wants to increase the revenues of the country let them put an increased tax on beer.

THE dairymen of the state will meet in convention in this city tomorrow. Will their session have any effect upon the price or quality of the milk?

GOVERNOR MATTHEWS has furnished an estimate of the military strength of Indiana. He states that the militia of the state consists of some 3,000 able bodied men, who can be made available on a moment's notice, and they are armed with repeating rifles of the latest pattern. The artillery companies, however, are not provided with the latest field pieces, but all their guns are muzzle loading. Within thirty days, however, the state could furnish at least 40,000 men to the government, who would be well officered and equipped in everything except in arms, which the government would have to furnish.

In speaking of the official call for the twenty-eighth annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association, to be held in Washington January 23, Miss Mirica Hoggland, in the Public Opinurrent, of this city, says: "Without entering upon any discussion of the question, the call gives rise to the following question: If congress should pass the amendment allowing women to vote and it is submitted to the several states for ratification, ought not the women of these states be allowed the opportunity to vote upon the question which is of such vital importance to them? If they are competent to vote at all should they not be permitted to have a voice in saying whether or no they wish the right of suffrage?"

THE senate of the United States without a dissenting voice passed Christmas eve a bill removing the disabilities which hitherto have deprived ex-confederates of the privilege of enlisting in the army and navy of the United States. There is not the slightest doubt that the house will accept the senate bill and pass it. No vestige will then remain on the books of the disbarment of any class or portion of our citizens on account of the rebellion already a generation behind us. Not many remain who participated in that conflict on either side, but of all the remnant there can be no one who will not rejoice that with the incoming of the year 1896 the feeling of '76 has been wholly restored.

CHRISTMAS of 1895 will pass into history distinguished on account of the fact that it was particularly green. It came mightily near, however, being a white Christmas, as shortly after the midnight bells pealed out the death of the day, the snow fell and covered the earth with a garment of white.

England and America.

Americans in England and Englishmen in America like to dwell upon the fact that the two nations are of one race, with a common language and literature, common traditions and common sympathies, as a reason why they should be friends. In truth, this very fact is the reason why there is as much friction between us. We seldom have any misunderstanding with the French, for example, who are of a quite different race, with a different point of view from ours, for the reason that we do not come into very close contact with them and do not know what they are saying about us. But we are always listening to the English and they to us, and each side is quick to take offense at the other.

Our relations are much like those of the members of one family who are mutually jealous and prone to bickering. It is easy to be polite to outsiders, to strangers or distant neighbors, but we do not feel the same restraint in our own household, and when brothers or cousins have once quarrelled, even though they have made up, it needs a good deal of restraint on both sides for them to keep upon good terms. We cannot help feeling conscious of a certain domineering manner in our kinsmen across the seas that we are disposed always to resent, while they resent in us what they regard as the insolence of youth that needs repression. In spite of the closeness of interest and the identity of personal friendships, each nation is perfectly conscious of the jealous attitude of the other, and so is quick to take offense at incidents or language that in a stranger would be passed by.

Yet while these misunderstandings are natural enough, it would be quite unnatural for them to develop into actual warfare, not so much because we are people of one race as because both nations are made up mostly of people of good sense, with other things to do in the world besides fighting one another over matters that can be settled better without it. We feel that we have made a reasonable suggestion to Great Britain—a suggestion such as one gentleman might make to another—not merely in self-interest, but in the interest of a weaker neighbor. Our suggestion has been rejected in a most curt, pugnacious manner, and the subject of them once in public gets well, after all, can be the pleasure or displeasure of sending them blue-d. This was the case with the Prince of Wales when he had typhoid fever at Sandringham so long in 1871. In this case the obituaries of the prince were set tentatively in type in the papers, but they were all ready for working off, and when at midnight the expected news of his death did not come, the papers had to fill in the space with various kinds of stale matter. His royal highness has now his own obituaries pasted in scrapbooks at Marlborough House.

The cotton states ought to be happy this year, for though the crop was not so large the price has been high enough to return big profits. The course of cotton ought to convince any person that every staple of trade, whatever it is, must rise and fall, ebb and flow, in price. Iron and cotton were dead low for years. Loud were the complaints that there was no money in them. This state of affairs induced till many feel become disgusted and grew out of the iron trade. Many planters had concluded that cotton did not pay to raise. Suddenly, without a word of warning or sufficient reason that anybody can determine for certain, the price of iron began to leap forward like a frog. Fortunes were made in a few months in the iron business. The ebb tide had simply finished its course, and the flood tide set in. As Tarnsey Benner observed a long time ago, there are regularly recurring cycles of high and low prices. In case of cotton there is more appearance of reason in the sudden rise of price, for the cotton crop was short. There was still plenty of it to supply all needs, however, and its scarcity was not sufficient explanation of the sensational fluctuations in price. But the lesson one can learn is that the producer of a staple has only to hang on till his turn comes again. It is sure to come. If anything was ever overdone in this country, it was the business of wheat raising, yet the price of wheat is certain to rise again, sooner or later, when its cycle of low price is accomplished.

Endowed Humbug.

Professor H. W. Jodin of Cornell university is of opinion that it would be a tremendous service to the public for some great rich man to endow a newspaper. He should set aside for it so much money that it would live, if living it could be called, whether anybody subscribed for it or read it or not. Its management should be in the hands of "trustees of integrity," who would run it in the interest of all the pure, elevated and unselfish sentiments of the day. "It would be expected to give carefully written, moderate opinions on both sides." The professor thinks such an endowed newspaper might have a stronger tendency toward elevating the political tone than a dozen new universities.

Yes, yes! Very fine this. But if such a paper were endowed and started in three months' time it would be more stupid through and through as an essay by a college professor. It would be deader than the Dead sea. Nobody would read it any more than he now reads the Congressional Record or a patent office publication. Does not the professor know that a state church is the most stupid and meanest lifeless of any?

A paper that cannot support itself and make a good living for its editor and the other people who work on it has no reason for being. Moreover, there are today a number of privately owned newspapers that do almost exactly what the professor suggests in the way of being perfectly truthful and unbiased as to news and likewise in giving moderately expressed views on both sides of a question. Moreover, some of these papers are among the richest and most widely read journals in America.

Go to with your foolery about an endowed newspaper!

Copyright in Canada.

When the international copyright agreement was entered into by the United States and Great Britain, it was a question whether Canada should be considered as a part of Great Britain in that matter. The Dominion finally allowed itself to be counted in, but with a condition attached. It was that whenever Canada desired to withdraw from the international copyright agreement she should be at liberty to do so.

Here was the groundwork of future trouble, but it was all that could be done at the time. American and British authors, however, proceeded to copyright their books on both sides of the water, and the new law worked well for a time. Then cunning hitch. Canada withdrew from the agreement and resolved to publish books on her own book copyrightable in the Dominion. An act was passed declaring that any Canadian printer might issue any foreign book he pleased, at any time. The only stipulation is that he shall deposit with the Dominion government a 10 per cent royalty on the book. This is supposed to be for the author, in case he should ever claim it.

It is charged that the Canadian copyright law is a blind to enable Canadian publishers to flood the United States with cheap books and evade the copyright law. The books will be smuggled across the border into this country, it is believed. This it will not be difficult to do.

Americans hardly expected to live to see British stocks put upon the American market, the tide having been the other way so long. Yet they will probably soon see that very thing. For some years the so called Kaffir stocks have been booming in London. In brief, they represent gold mining properties in South Africa. It is safe to say they are as unwise as to purchase an American gold mining stocks have long been. They may hit, but the chances are 99 in 100 against them. Indeed it has been said more than once that the fortunes made from our gold mines are those which accrued from the sale of their stock to greenhorns in Europe. Now it looks as if the British were giving us a dose of our own medicine. At any rate it will be well to wait a good while before investing large sums in Kaffir stocks, and then not do it. They have boomed so that they are at a high price already, higher than would be profitable to pay. If that were not so, they would already all be taken in England.

MR. J. C. CRAM A WITNESS.

Says Munyon Saved His Life

Glad to Testify for Munyon's Improved Homeopathic Home Remedies.

J. C. Cram, Wellburg, West Va., says: "I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia and catarrh of the liver, and have a great many doctors and used numberless remedies, but without a cure. In fact, of late I grew worse so rapidly that I was given up as a hopeless case. At this time Munyon's treatment was recommended to me, and I firmly believe the use of his Homeopathic Remedies saved my life. A short course of treatment, using Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure and Liver Cure, cured me completely of all my stomach and liver troubles, and made a new man of me."

Munyon's Vitalizer restores lost power to weak men. Price, $1.00.

IN CASE OF WAR.

A Chicago Ship Builder Tells What We Could Do.

Could Put Thirty Well Equipped Armored Vessels on the Lakes in Short order.

CHICAGO Dec 26.—W. L. Brown, of the Chicago Ship Building company, declared today that in case of war with England, the United States could build thirty fully equipped war ships for lake service inside of two months. In an emergency, armored vessels of simple construction would be put together in ninety days. "On the other hand," he added, "Canada could do practically nothing in the way of armored vessels and would be obliged to get along with make shifts. As the first move of the United States would be to destroy the Welland canal, the situation on the great lakes would resolve itself into this: Which nation has the best ship building facilities on the chain of lakes?"

"The ship yards on the United States side could take care of the work faster than the material could be furnished," continued Mr. Brown. "All the armor for these vessels has to come from one place, Pittsburg. There are only two firms there which make it—the Carnegie Steel company and the Cambria Iron company, so that the United States controls the supply of material."

Bankers Fail.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26.—William G. and S. Degroot, trading as William G. Hopper & Company, bankers and brokers, 24 South Third street, failed today. The firm declines to give out any statement, but the liabilities will probably be heavy as they did a big business. It is believed they were caught on the short side of the market, as following last week's slump stocks have advanced.

Obituary Humors.

A writer who naturally does not give his name has confessed in Chambers' Journal that he got his living by writing obituary notices of distinguished people. In some way he sells the manuscript death notice to the newspapers while the person is yet living. In others editors who know his specialty send to him in a hurry on the unexpected death of some public person, and such are his resources that in two or three hours he can turn out a death notice anywhere from two to six columns long of almost anybody on the globe. He has for years collected from the daily papers that chronicle events in the lives of people their history, movements and anecdotes related of them. These clippings he keeps in huge, bulging scrapbooks to which he can apply at any time. He says he finds this kind of writing "pays exceedingly well." Perhaps here is a hint that some brainy, impecunious young American man or woman may take advantage of.

If you are at all a distinguished person, particularly if you are well on in years, every large newspaper in the land probably has your obituary notice tucked away in its pigeon holes at this moment. The writer in Chambers' Journal says they call it over the water keeping the notice in pickle.

Sometimes, however, where a comparatively young man has climbed into prominence and the newspapers and insurance companies naturally calculate on his living many years, he cheats them by dying suddenly. Then the newspapers themselves are in a pickle to get a respectable obituary in a short time. In such cases the notice detailing the virtues of the departed are always meager, dull and unsatisfactory. Charles Stewart Parnell thus went out in a hurry and elevated the papers out of an obituary wheck of a most striking character.

On the other hand, sometimes when a man has been ill a long time, the report of his death is correlated accurately. Then the journals rush into print three paragraphed obituaries and the subject of them once in public gets well, after all, can be the pleasure or displeasure of reading them himself. This was the case with the Prince of Wales when he had typhoid fever at Sandringham so long in 1871. In this case the obituaries of the prince were set tentatively in type in the papers, but they were all ready for working off, and when at midnight the expected news of his death did not come, the papers had to fill in the space with various kinds of stale matter. His royal highness has now his own obituaries pasted in scrapbooks at Marlborough House.

AMHERST'S ECLIPSE EXPEDITION.

Professor Todd Will Observe the Sun From One of Japan's Islands in 1896.

To travel thousands of miles, spend thousands of dollars and devote three years of preparatory work in order to procure less than a three minutes' view of the eclipse of the sun is the task Professor David Peck Todd of Amherst college has gladly assumed. He will head the Amherst eclipse expedition to Japan in 1896 and will be well exhibited if vexatious clouds will only keep out of the way and permit an uninterrupted study of the sun's corona. The eclipse will occur at 3:05 p. m. on Aug. 9, on the island of Yezo, one of the largest northern islands of the Japanese empire, and will last 2 minutes and 40 seconds. It is a little school ahead of any along and yet in the way during that time, thousands of dollars of travel, thousands of dollars of expenditures and three years of work and planning will all have been in vain.

Professor Todd is a veteran observer of eclipses. He has already directed five expeditions and has added much to the world's knowledge of astronomy. He was born at Lake Ridge, N. Y., March 19, 1855, and is a son of Stevens Ladworth Todd. He studied for a time at Columbia college and was graduated from Amherst college in 1875. In August of that year he was appointed assistant to the United States transit of Venus commission and devoted three years to the arduous work of reducing the observations of the transit expedition of 1874.

In 1875 he was elected a member of the Washington Philosophical society. Two years later he became a member of the American Association For the Advancement of Science and in 1881 was made a fellow of the same body. While at Amherst, he began a series of observations of the satellites of Jupiter and continued them for 12 years. In 1878 he conducted the government observation in Texas of the sun's eclipse. In 1881 he occupied the chair of astronomy at Amherst and also became professor of astronomy and higher mathematics at Smith college. In 1882 he directed observations of the transit of Venus from Lick observatory and in 1887 and 1889 led the expeditions to Japan and to Africa to observe the solar eclipses. The forthcoming expedition will leave San Francisco next spring on the schooner yacht Coronet.

TO BID FOR BIG CONVENTIONS.

As every one knows, Niagara Falls has excellent hotel facilities for the entertainment of bridal couples, but the fact that she possessed no great hall has compelled her to refuse many national conventions that would have furnished a golden harvest for the hotel men, storekeepers and backmen of the city. This want has long been nullified, but if present plans are carried out the town will soon possess a great convention hall that will be large enough to accommodate any body that may desire to hold its sessions near the mighty cataract.

The building will be 170 feet long and 130 feet wide and will cost about $100,000. The structure will be of brick and terra cotta and will be fireproof. The auditorium is designed to seat 12,000 and 8,000 people and will be flanked by numerous committee rooms and toilet rooms and by a restaurant. The floor of the auditorium will be of maple, the interior finish will be of hard wood and the plaster work will be artistically decorated. The veranda will be open to the top of the building.

ALBERT HANSON HAS AN ARM INJURED—HAS BEEN KICKED BY DOBBINS—END BOSS HAIR FELL.

Charles E. Damon is the engineer at the Bass machine shop and lives out near the Western Gas works. This morning at 6 o'clock, as he was leaving home for the factory, he slipped and fell on the door steps, striking his back upon the sharp corner of one of the boards and sustaining severe injury to the spine. He was barely able to crawl back into the house, where he will no doubt be confined for a week or more. In the meantime Joseph Jordan will have charge of the engine room at the Bass works.

ALBERT HANSON HURT.

Albert Hanson, one of the employes at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, was pulling a load truck in the yard adjacent to the shop, when his foot slipped and he fell upon a steel billet, severely injuring his left side and arm. He will be unable to work for some days.

TERRE HAUTE CAR WORKS TO RESUME OPERATIONS.

The Terre Haute Car Works company announce that about the 1st of February the works will be started at nearly full capacity, after practically two years' idleness. The plant has been enlarged and improved, and it is expected that before long more than 1,000 men will be employed. The company has several contracts, which will give employment to 500 men at the start, and it is expected other contracts will be secured soon after the first of the year which will give assurance of steady operations for a long time to come.

MAN KILLED AT DELPHOS.

The track walker on the Pittsburg road found the mangled remains of Samuel Hamilton lying on the road near Delphos, Ohio, early Christmas morning. The body was horribly mutilated and pieces of flesh and bloody garments were strewn along the track a distance of twenty yards. In the pockets of the coat were papers by which the identity of the unfortunate man was discovered. He was a resident of Van Wert, where the remains were taken after the coroner had released them. Hamilton was soon to get on No. 8 Saturday night, but as no blood stains were found on the wheels of the cars, it is thought he was killed by some other train.

BRIEF MENTION.

W. T. Kelley, of the metre department, electric works, is sick and off duty.

After a few days' illness A. S. Durnell, east shop timer, returned to work this morning.

Ed Ames of the electric works, has returned from Michigan, where he installed a lighting plant.

Charles Seibt and Herman Regal have returned from the east, where they were acting up Bass engines.

James Stewart, a former Wabash brakeman, was killed on the Big Four road at Mt. Carmel, Ill., a few days ago.

E. T. Campbell, who was sick a week with rheumatism, resumed charge of the elevator at the electric works this morning.

Thomas J. Sellers, of Rhinesmith & Simonson's factory, is entertaining his brother-in-law, Delphos Clayton, of Alliance, Ohio.

Charles Keegan, a machinist of Grand Rapids, and his wife were guests of relatives here over Christmas, returning home this morning.

Boilermaker Henry Gearken, of the Pittsburg shops, is suffering with a severe facial attack of erysipelas and is confined to his home.

The clerks in the Kerr Murray works are preparing for the annual inventory and in a few days will be actively engaged in that work.

C. S. Knight came home from California last night, and has resumed charge of affairs in his particular department at the electric works.

The following Wabash shopmen spent Christmas out of the city: J. R. Plank, Butler; H. W. Smith, Logansport, and E. A. Coleman, Wabash.

The Standard Wheel works have closed on account of the inclemency of the weather and will not resume operations until next Thursday morning.

Michael Harrigan, the night operator in the Pennsylvania office at Valparaiso, was attacked by heart disease last Saturday and the Messenger, of that city, says his condition is such as to give rise to grave apprehensions for his recovery.

Willard Collie, the Nickel Plate operator, has gone into Michigan to spend a few days.

Mr. J. B. Barnes, superintendent of motive power of the Wabash, was in the city over Christmas.

G. J. DeVilbiss, apprentice machinist in the Wabash shops, was the guest of friends at Springfield, Ill., yesterday.

John Greer, of the Kerr Murray works, is at Warsaw, Ind., where he will spend the balance of the week with relatives and friends.

Jasper Metsner, a passenger conductor on the Grand Rapids road, is sick and his run is being looked after by Conductor John Greer.

Joel H. Kinkead, of the Pittsburg copper shop, and his wife went to Middlepoint, Ohio, Tuesday evening to spend Christmas with relatives.

According to the Pittsburg Post, the Pennsylvania officials in that city know nothing of the purchase of 100 acres of land at Lima for yard purposes.

The wife and children of Cloyd Ellenwood, the Pittsburg fireman, are quite ill and that gentleman is kept from his train duties thereby.

W. F. Fisher, coppersmith in the Pittsburg shops, ate turkey with friends at Upland, Ind. He was accompanied to that city by Mrs. Fisher.

Master Mechanic C. H. Doebler, of the Big Four, who will Mrs. Doebler spent Christmas with her father, H. N. Ward, returned to Wabash this morning.

The absentees from the Bass blacksmith shop are Jacob Keller, who has gone visiting in the country, and Gus Lichel and Jacob Bourer, who are sick.

Marshall R. Humphrey, Nickel Plate fireman, was the guest of his father at Huntington yesterday. The elder Humphrey is a merchant policeman.

Howes Piper is lying quite ill at the home of his grandfather, James Howes, 142 East Lewis street. The young man is employed in the Pittsburg copper shop.

Christmas travel was unusually good this year. The ticket sellers had to "hump" themselves to wait upon all those who applied at the wickets for tickets just before trains started.

John Stebley, a former Nickel Plate conductor and citizen of Fort Wayne, is now owner of one of the largest saloons of Tiffin, Ohio, and is seemingly prospering in a financial way. To a SENTINEL reporter who saw him a few days ago Mr. Stebley said: "Give my regards to my old friends in Fort Wayne and tell them I wish them a happy New Year."

During the year 1895 there were constructed in the southern states 685 miles of standard gauge railroad, the greatest number of any year in the last decade.

Miss Emma Porter, of Peru, who was the guest of her brother, Charley Porter, of the Wabash freight office, the fore part of the week, has returned to her home.

The two thousand box cars which the Pennsylvania this week has placed contracts for are to be completed by March 1, deliveries to commence within thirty days.

Blacksmith Terrence Martin, of the Pittsburg shops, is laying off this week to entertain his son, who came down from Chicago Tuesday to spend holiday week with his parents.

Fred Dickmeyer, M. F. Hardendorf, Frank Meyers and William Hayes resumed work at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop this morning. Mr. Dickmeyer was sick a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Meek went to Pierceton, Ind., yesterday to spend the balance of the week with the lady's parents. Mr. Meek is the Nickel Plate telegraph operator.

Engineer John E. Long, of the Pittsburg, is sick. Engineers Rodney Ellenwood and William Lohmann, of the same road, have recovered from their sickness and resumed work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira A. Smith, of 176 Guy street, were guests of friends at Warsaw yesterday. Mr. Smith is a brick mason and keeps the furnaces in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop in repair.

Thomas Deals, Frank Bates and Charles Bubilinger, of the Pittsburg round house, enjoyed Christmas with their families. Other employes of the round house were compelled to work as usual.

It is expected that the Drice syndicate will announce its ownership of the Ohio Southern road in a few days. This at least is the belief of those who ought to know something about the matter.

The Central Traffic association has refused to make a reduced rate on the roads leading into this city on the occasion of the meeting of the Indiana State Dairy association, December 27-28, which meets here.

Gustave L. Huckins, treasurer of the Kerr Murray Manufacturing company, who had been making a tour of the large cities in the interest of the firm, arrived home in time to spend Christmas with his family.

[A Christmas Story With a Moral]

1—"Oh, me, oh my!" cried Johnny Bumble—
"My stockings are so small;
I want so much St. Nick can't touch
Me with his gifts at all!"

2—"Alas! What's this?" cried Johnny as
He jumped high in the air,
"My sister Lou has left her Noo-Mern bring on that chair!"

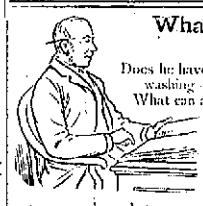
3—"I'll take them up instead of these
Dear little socks of mine;
When Santa brings his gifts and things
He'll fix up on quite fine."

4—When Santa Claus came 'round that night
And saw those Hoosiers there
He smiled at first and then a burst
Of laughter fell—I hear it.

5—"I'll take these home to Mrs. Claus,
They're just the kind she'll like
'Cause Mrs. C., in fact you and me
Has learned to ride a bike!"

6—There is a moral hidden deep
Within this tale of Stockin,
The Greatr boys quite oft neglect
Who use their sisters' duds.

What's your husband's work?



Does he have to do anything as hard as your washing and scrubbing? It can't be. What can a man do that's as hard, for neat men, as this constant housedrudgery is, for most women? If he has any sympathy for you, tell him to get you some Pearline. Sympathy is all very well, but it's Pearline, not sympathy, that you want for washing and cleaning. Nothing else that's safe to use will save you so much downright hard work at the washtub or about the house. It saves money, too—saves the ruinous wear on clothes and paint from needless rubbing. 461

Millions NOW USE Pearline

The remains will arrive at the Pittsburg depot Friday noon and from there they will be taken to Lindenwood cemetery for burial. Mr. Sweeney is a member of K. P. lodge No. 116, and all brothers of the lodge and friends of the deceased who so desire are invited to attend.

Bluffton News: "Mrs. W. M. Myers, who has been visiting in the city, returned to her home in Fort Wayne this morning. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Bob Ulmer, who will visit with her over Christmas.—Mrs. Willard Reader, of Fort Wayne, is a guest of Ephriam Bender and Fred Hunter and family.—Gus Michaels is receiving a visit from his father, J. C. Michaels, of Fort Wayne."

One of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred at the residence of Louis Miller, No. 274 Webster street, Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock. William Erdmann, of Stony Island, Ills., and Miss Lizzie Mack, of this city, were united in marriage by the Rev. Philip Wambsganss, assistant pastor of Emanuel's Lutheran church, in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Aug Erdmann, Misses Louise and Minnie Erdmann, Messrs. Aug. jr. and George Erdmann, of Columbia City; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mack, of Mayaville; and Godfrey Mack, of Indianapolis. The happy couple left this morning over the Nickel Plate for Stony Island, their future home, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

The employes of the Kimball piano company arranged a very pleasant surprise Christmas dinner upon their manager in this city, Mr. J. H. Case, yesterday. Late in the afternoon he was induced to go to the storeroom in the Arcade building and upon his return to his home, 332 West Washington street, he found his agents and employes in possession of the house to enter'd him a warm Christmas greeting. Dinner was served at 5:30 and it was an elaborate affair in five courses. The honors were done by Mrs. Case and daughter, Miss Nettie Case, and they made everybody feel at home. Those who were present were: W. J. Holt, J. W. Lane, H. C. Eastwood, W. D. Kyle, J. C. Arthur, J. H. Foster, George Conklin, R. A. Bobbitt, John Emerick and J. Wells, of this city, and H. S. Wood, of Greenfield, O. The evening was most pleasantly spent. Mr. Case is popular with his men and manager and employes have a very close friendship for each other.

Hon. J. H. Bass went to Kansas City yesterday.

Ike Lehman has gone to Mansfield, O., for a few days.

James Rumsey, of Cleveland, is visiting his parents in this city.

William Vanderdell, of Columbia City, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Haines, on Fairfield avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlondo V. Riley, of Adams, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edwards, of East Washington street.

At 7 o'clock this evening at the English Lutheran church, will occur the marriage of Miss Rachel Boles to Mr. Frank Safford.

Mrs. Martin Miller, of Van Wert, Ohio, is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lehman, of 222 E. Washington street.

Godfrey Mack, of Indianapolis, is visiting in the city for a few days, the guest of his sister, Mrs. Louis Miller, No. 214 Webster street.

Jacob Ganzer, a baker at Barcus' bakery, was severely burned by a gas explosion in the oven a day or two ago. He is confined to his home by the injuries.

Yesterday was a merry Christmas at the Indiana home for feeble minded youth. Every child in the institution received some present and their happiness was supreme. The grand success of the entertainment last week made this distribution of presents possible and those who purchased tickets for the entertainment have the satisfaction of knowing that they witnessed a splendid concert and also helped to gladden the hearts of the children.

The Sunday school of the Congregational church gave a Christmas entertainment last evening which was largely attended and proved a success. The cantata, 'Good Time of Santa Claus," was produced. Ed. Beaver was Santa Claus, Miss Mary Cairns was Mother Goose, and the three angel characters were taken by Misses Elsie Johnson, Rola Davis and Gertrude Gilbert. Miss Laura Kimball rendered the piano music for the Cantatia. Fine solos were sung by Miss Cairns and Charles Foote and a recitation was delivered by Miss Flossie Davis. The cantatia was under the management of Mrs. J. S. Ainslie, who deserves credit for the success of the entertainment.

TWO LIFE MEN PAROLED.

Governor Matthews Makes Two Acceptable Christmas Gifts.

Governor Matthews issued two paroles yesterday which will be to the recipients the most pleasant Christmas gifts they could have desired. Two life men were paroled from the penitentiary.

John Kennedy was paroled, having been in the penitentiary since 1877. He was sent from Indianapolis for the murder of Clarence McCue on October 5, 1876, and has been in prison eighteen years. The murder is almost forgotten now. Kennedy and McCue had been enemies and their trouble ended in the murder of McCue. Kennedy has the consumption and has been in poor health for some time.

Albert Foster, another life man, who was sent from Tippecanoe county for murder, was also paroled. The murder for which Foster was convicted was committed in 1881. Foster had been a model prisoner, and is in poor health. Petitions for his parole were signed by many of the leading citizens of Tippecanoe county.

A CHRISTMAS NOVEL.

CHAPTER I.

Johnny they called him for short
His full name was John Bethister
Gibson Kinkleweiddy, Jr.

CHAPTER II.

The Christmas dinner consisted of turkey, wild duck, chicken, roast beef, potatoes, turnips, parsnips, beets, celery and other vegetables. There was also plum pudding and mince pie and cake and nuts. Ice cream and orange ice also sted plentifully. Coffee and ice water could be had for the asking.

CHAPTER III.

Johnny ate a great deal of everything mentioned in our last chapter.

CHAPTER IV.

"Johnny was our bright and treasure.
He was full of fun and other stores
But he went away and left us—
Went to play a Heavenly harp."
Sir His Grandmother.
THE END.

"FIGHTING RILEY."

He Was in Police Court Charged With Peculiarity.

Edward Riley, better known among the police as "Fighting Riley," was in police court this morning charged with using profane language on the streets. Officer Sharp arrested him near the south depot. He plead guilty and paid a fine amounting to $10.50.

ON THE STAGE.

A Huntington Young Couple is Wedded.

The audience in the opera house, at Huntington, last Tuesday night, were treated to an extra act without extra cost. "The Wife" company, which played there last night, was playing in the Huntington opera house, and between the last two acts, a member of the company announced that immediately after the last act Mr. Herbert Glanton, stage manager of the opera house, and Miss Shearer would be married on the stage in full view of the audience. As soon as the show was over the orchestra played a wedding march and the bridal party came upon the stage. Rev H. C. Kendrick, pastor of the Christian church, who is well known here, performed the ceremony. The wedding had been arranged as a surprise and the audience enjoyed the novelty of witnessing a real wedding on the stage.

The following invitations were issued this morning:

The favor of your presence is requested at the reception to be given in honor of the Glee, Banjo and Mandolin Clubs of the University of Michigan, at the Fort Wayne Club, on Thursday evening, January the second, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, after the concert.

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

The Christmas Recital at Simpson M. E. Church.

Editor Sentinel:

The entertainment given by the junior league and Sunday school at Simpson M. E church Christmas eve was pronounced a splendid success.

The recitations by the children were all good and well rendered.

The class recitations by the junior league were the best we have had in our church for a long time; I guess never better, and then the singing by the children was splendid. I dare not speak of anyone for all did their parts well. After this came the grinding out the treat for the children in an old time wind mill. This the children enjoyed very much. Take it all in all, it was a splendid success and none deserve more credit than our pastor pastor and his wife, who had entire charge of the program. Seldom, if ever, have we had a pastor and a pastor's wife who took so much interest in our children. It is hoped their services will be continued with us.
